THE LERNER FAMILY - PRINCIPAL OWNERS

Theodore N. Lerner, along with his wife Annette, his son Mark D. Lerner, daughters Debra Lerner Cohen and Marla Lerner Tanenbaum, his daughter-in-law Judy Lenkin Lerner, and his sons-in-law Edward L. Cohen and Robert K. Tanenbaum are the Principal Owners of the Washington Nationals. The Lerner family purchased the team from Major League Baseball in July, 2006.

As long-time Washington area residents and proud stewards of the National Pastime in the Nation's Capital, the entire Lerner family is committed to franchise excellence both on the field and off. They worked closely with the outstanding members of the Nationals staff to oversee the successful opening of Nationals Park and lead the drive to provide the most fan-friendly, accessible and affordable experience available for Washington area families and sports fans. Focused on every aspect of the fan ballpark experience, the Lerner family applies the same dedication to high quality that they've applied as the award-winning developers of millions of square feet of Washington-area office, hotel and retail properties -- like Washington Square at 1050 Connecticut Avenue, NW, Tysons II, White Flint, Greenbelt Marriott, Dulles Town Center, 2000 Tower Oaks Boulevard and 20 M Street, SE, the award –winning new building one block from Nationals Park. As groundbreaking visionaries in environmental development, the Lerner family is dedicated to building "green" – Nationals Park is the first Major League Baseball ballpark to be LEED certified by the U.S. Green Building Council, with reduced energy consumption, stringent waste management, and effective use of recycled materials.

Under Lerner family ownership, the Nationals are building an exciting and competitive organization through trade, draft and player development. The new addition of Adam Dunn solidifies a line up that includes fan favorite Ryan Zimmerman, Lastings Milledge, Elijah Dukes, Josh Willingham and Cristian Guzman and young pitchers like Scott Olsen, Collin Balester and John Lannan. The entire Nats organization is working to build a perennial contender that can compete year in and year out in the National League East and throughout Major League Baseball.

In the community, the Lerner family has demonstrated its dedication to the people and neighborhoods surrounding Nationals Park and throughout the Washington region through the team's community relations, its foundation – the Washington Nationals Dream Foundation – and The Annette M. and Theodore N. Lerner Family Foundation. Nationals players are out with fans nearly every day of every homestand – visiting schools and hospitals and instilling area children with a love for community and an appreciation of the game. In addition to its work with Boys & Girls Clubs, the Earth Conservation Corps, the Pediatric Diabetes Care Facility at Children's National Medical Center, and other area organizations, the Dream Foundation has joined with the District to build the Washington Nationals Youth Baseball Academy – a unique facility that will provide inner city youth with the opportunity to develop their baseball skills while fostering their academic and social development. The WNDF expects to break ground on the Academy in 2010.

On the personal side, Lerner family members are involved in all aspects of the Washington, DC-area community. Through The Annette M. and Theodore N. Lerner Family Foundation they support many organizations, including: The George Washington University; Food and Friends; The Hebrew University of Jerusalem; Shady Grove Adventist Hospital; Hadley's Park; the Weizmann Institute of Science; the Scleroderma Foundation of Greater Washington; YouthAids; Junior Achievement of the Greater Washington Area; the Jewish Community Centers of Greater Washington and District of Columbia; and Imagination Stage, among many others. Ted and his wife Annette are founding members of the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum in Washington, D.C.

Washington

We'd like to thank all the wonderful fans in the Washington DC area for making the inaugural season at Nationals Park memorable. We pledge to make the game experience at the Home of the National Pastime in the Nation's Capital, a new American tradition. Opening Day 2008 at Nationals Park was everything Major League Baseball should be: A packed house, a Presidential First Pitch, and a national television audience to watch a ninth-inning game-winning walk-off homerun by Ryan Zimmerman. It was all the excitement we intend to make a part of every game at Nationals Park.

With the big bat addition of Adam Dunn to our 2009 line-up that excitement will only intensify – especially if you're up at the Red Porch, Red Loft or in the right field bleachers. Dunn delivered 40 home runs in each of the past four seasons and 100 RBI's in four of the last five. He will join Ryan Zimmerman, Lastings Milledge, Cristian Guzman, Elijah Dukes, Josh Willingham and a corps of other young hitters that will be setting their sights on National League pitching. Stan Kasten and the Nationals baseball operations and scouting staff will be on the look out all season long for new players that can also contribute to our plan to become a perennial contender.

Off the field, the Washington Nationals Dream Foundation expects to break ground this year on our new youth baseball academy. We've teamed up with MLB and the District of Columbia to develop what we hope will be a model public-private partnership to give more children a chance to play baseball and take part in after-school educational programming that will help them grow into resilient young adults. It's important to every member of our organization that the Nationals play a leading role in support of children and families throughout the area. We're also committed to our work with Children's National Medical Center for the Diabetes Care Complex, the Boys & Girls Clubs, and all our other community partners. We're proud that Nationals players are out in our neighborhoods nearly every day of every homestand. Baseball – the national pastime – has always been a great way to reach people and change lives.

At the ballpark, we've continued to make additions that will make the game experience even more enjoyable. We've created the new and improved Red Porch Restaurant in Center Field, which will offer a diverse menu in a fun atmosphere. We're also pleased to bring Levy Restaurants on board as our new concessionaire. Levy Restaurants, a James Beard and Ivy Award-winning company, has transformed dining at major sporting and entertainment venues across the country, from Wrigley Field and US Cellular Field in Chicago to Dodger Stadium in Los Angeles and we look forward to having them work their magic at Nationals Park. They will continue to dish out our traditional ballpark favorites and upscale items, and feature regional specialties from DC's local eateries. We will be working closely with them to ensure that fans at Nationals Park can always find tempting food and great service.

Nothing compares to the excitement of hometown baseball. We invite you to "Get Your RED On" and join us in NatsTown as we begin the second season of baseball on the beautiful green fields of National Park. There's no better way for friends and families to spend a summer evening in the Nation's Capital. We'll see you there.

Sincerely,

Theodore N. Lerner Mark D. Lerner Edward L. Cohen Robert K. Tanenbaum

STAN KASTEN

President

Stan Kasten was officially introduced as Nationals President on May 3, 2006. His name and reputation are well known throughout the sporting landscape, seemingly no matter one's favorite athletic pastime.

In 1999, Kasten became the first person to hold the title of president of three different teams in three different major sports simultaneously. He accomplished this unique feat with MLB's Atlanta Braves, the NBA's Atlanta Hawks and the NHL's Atlanta Thrashers. At the same time, Kasten also served as TBS Vice President of Sports Teams and Chairman of Philips Arena.

Although his professional career is highlighted by the Braves 1995 World Championship, his Braves and Hawks made a combined 30 post-season appearances and claimed 15 division titles, including 12 straight during the Braves' unprecedented run from 1991-2003.

Now, in Washington, Kasten has accepted the challenge of not only re-energizing baseball in the nation's capital, but to establish a crown-jewel franchise in the World's Most Powerful City.

Kasten will rely heavily on Three Pillars—scouting and player development, enhancing the fan experience, and community outreach—to accomplish the goal of establishing a franchise built on long-term success, both on and off the field. To do so, Kasten will draw heavily on experiences gained with the Braves, who were at a similar stage upon his arrival in 1987.

Kasten has been tasked with strengthening a Nationals scouting and player development system which had lagged in recent years.

In the fall of 2006, the Nationals bolstered their scouting department with the addition of 10 scouts. Little more than a year later, the positive momentum gained from these additions is already apparent.

Not only was Washington's 2007 First-Year Draft class rated by industry insider Baseball American as the best in baseball, but in January, BA rated the Nationals minor-league system No. 9 in baseball. This ranking stands in stark contrast to last season, when the Nationals' system was ranked 30th by the same publication. The Nationals' 21-spot ranking leap from 2007 to '08 was the second-largest since BA began its organizational rankings in 2001.

Kasten's leadership and experience—the common thread in the successes of the Atlanta Hawks in the 1980s, the Braves of the 1990s and the Thrashers of the new millennium—also extends to the constructions of state-of-the-art sports venues.

This background served Kasten—and ultimately baseball fans—well in Washington, as Nationals Park opened its gates in front of an international television audience on March 30, 2008.

While in Atlanta, Kasten oversaw the construction of Turner Field as it was sculpted from Atlanta's Olympic Stadium. Kasten also quarterbacked the planning and construction of Philips Arena, the home of the Hawks and Thrashers, and site of the 2003 NBA All-Star and 2008 NHL All-Star games. Atlanta's newest sports venue opened in 1999 and continues to gain accolades for its uniqueness and top-notch fan amenities.

During his tenure with Atlanta, Kasten's Braves included, among others John Smoltz, Chipper Jones, Andruw Jones, Greg Maddux, Tom Glavine, Terry Pendleton, Deion Sanders, David Justice, Brian Jordan, but it was Kasten's ability to convince then-General Manager Bobby Cox to return to the dugout in a managerial role that sparked the Braves' string of 14 straight division titles, five NL pennants and one World Championship. During baseball's renaissance in Atlanta, the Braves posted more wins than any team in baseball and drew in excess of three million fans on six occasions. Kasten also served baseball as Chairman of the Player Personal Development Committee, and on various committees dealing with labor, realignment and expansion.

In November of 1979, Kasten was named Hawks General Manager, and thus, became the youngest GM in NBA history at the age of 27. Kasten was named Hawks President in 1986, yet retained the role of GM until 1990. He remains the only person in NBA history to be named by his peers as "Executive of the Year" in consecutive seasons (1986 and '87). Kasten has served on the NBA's marketing committee, the player pension committee and the expansion committee. He is also a former trustee of the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame.

During his career with the Hawks, the team made tremendous strides on the court and at the gate. Over the latter half of the 1980s, the team posted four consecutive 50-win seasons and subsequent playoff berths, and set numerous team records in attendance. In the '90s, the Hawks posted a trio of 50-win seasons en route to seven straight playoff appearances.

In November of 1999, during Atlanta's inaugural NHL season, Kasten was named President and Governor of the Thrashers. His goals mirrored those achieved with the Braves, to construct a team built for the long haul. The Thrashers have been one of the more successful expansion teams in NHL history. Kasten enjoyed positions on both the NHL's Board of Governors and Executive Committee.

As the Nationals begin to spread their wings internationally, Kasten will lend expertise gained with TBS and the Hawks, the first team to widely draft international players. In the summer of 1988, Kasten's Hawks became the first NBA team to visit the USSR.

Kasten's introduction to pro sports management came as a result of a 1976 meeting at a Braves-Cardinals game with Braves owner Ted Turner, when Kasten was celebrating his law school graduation with a tour of major league ballparks. Soon after, he was appointed legal counsel for the Braves and Hawks, and one year later (1977-78) became the Hawks' Assistant General Manager.

Kasten was born February 1, 1952, in Lakewood, NJ. He attended New York University, where he graduated in 1973 with a degree in psychology, earned magna cum laude honors and was chosen Phi Beta Kappa. He received a Juris Doctor degree from Columbia Law School in 1976. He played in the Jersey Shore Summer Baseball League during his law school years.

Kasten is on the Board of Directors of the Sports Lawyers Association, which awarded him their coveted "Award of Excellence" in May 2000. Stan and his wife, Helen, live in Foggy Bottom and have four children.

BOB WOLFE

Executive Vice President

Bob Wolfe enters his fourth season in Washington after joining the Nationals as Executive Vice President on June 1, 2006. He previously served with the Atlanta Braves and Atlanta Hawks for over 20 years, including over a decade spent as Braves Sr. Vice President of Administration (1992-2003).

Wolfe's leadership and experience have helped shape the Nationals' modern-day front office, business practices and ballpark policies. His experience steadied the ballclub's transition from antiquated RFK Memorial Stadium to state-of-the-art Nationals Park in the winter of 2008.

Wolfe's responsibilities include oversight of the club's various business and administrative areas, including finance, sales and marketing, communications, ticket operations, ballpark operations, community relations, food service operations and human resources.

After working in the Braves' accounting department from 1980-84, Wolfe accepted a post as Hawks business manager in 1985. He was named Vice President/Business Manager of the Hawks in 1988.

Wolfe and his wife, Kelly Koelker, have one daughter, Ellery.

MIKE RIZZO

Assistant GM & VP, Baseball Operations

Mike Rizzo was appointed Nationals Assistant General Manager and Vice President of Baseball Operations on July 24, 2006. Rizzo's hiring was the first significant addition made by the organization after the Lerner Family officially took control of the Nationals the same day. Rizzo's arrival in DC punctuated the Nationals' scouting momentum gained in international and domestic scouting circles.

In his current role, Rizzo oversees all aspects of the Nationals' major league operation and serves as a clearinghouse for President Stan Kasten as it pertains to all other baseball operations matters. He also oversees Washington's Major League, Professional and International scouting activities. Rizzo's expertise and relationship-building have breathed new life into the Nationals' Pacific Rim efforts.

The initial returns have been spectacular, as the Nationals' 2007 First-Year Player Draft—Rizzo's first with the organization—was rated as the best in baseball by Baseball America.

Rizzo joined the Nationals after spending the previous seven seasons with the Arizona Diamondbacks, primarily as Director of Scouting. Following the 2005 campaign, when eight Diamondback players were honored with individual awards and/or designations to their leagues' All-Star teams, Rizzo was promoted, earning the title of Vice President of Scouting Operations after the Diamondbacks were named Topps' Organization of the Year.

In 2001, upon being named Arizona's Director of Scouting, the Diamondbacks' minor-league system ranked 29th in baseball according to Baseball America. Five highly successful drafts and a few hundred thousand miles traveled later, Arizona's system was ranked No. 1 in baseball by the same publication entering the 2006 season.

Rizzo earned a World Series ring with Arizona in 2001, but the fruits of his labor not end there for the Diamondbacks. Brandon Webb (2006 Cy Young Award winner, three-time winner of 15-plus games), Chad Tracy, Justin Upton, Stephen Drew, Dan Uggla, Micah Owings, Tony Pena, Mark Reynolds, Conor Jackson, Miguel Montero and Chris Snyder were drafted by Arizona under Rizzo's watch. While with the White Sox, Rizzo inked future two-time American League MVP Frank Thomas.

Rizzo, who is entering his 27th season of pro ball, joined the Diamondbacks for their inaugural 1998 campaign after enjoying stints with the Boston Red Sox (area supervisor, international scout and major league advance scout) and Chicago White Sox (Midwest and Southeast territorial scout).

Raised in Chicago, IL, Rizzo spent four seasons as a minor league player in the Angels organization before retiring and beginning a coaching career at the University of Illinois, where he served as an assistant coach while earning a Bachelor of Arts in Communications.

Assistant GM & VP, Player Development

Bob Boone joined the Nationals upon being appointed by Jim Bowden as Special Assistant to the General Manager on December 11, 2004. He shifted into his current role as Assistant General Manager & Vice President, Player Development during the 2006 season.

From his first day with the Nationals, Boone has been involved in every aspect of the Nationals' baseball operation. He played an extremely vital role in all big league evaluations, both internal and external, and helped "recruit" a new wave of player-development talent to join the Nationals' scouting and coaching ranks. His presence has also helped the Nationals in signing Player Development Contracts with Syracuse of the Triple-A International League and Hagerstown of the Single-A South Atlantic League, thus tightening Washington's player-development footprint.

Boone also spent considerable time and energy scouting amateur talent, specifically in preparation for the 2005 First-Year Player Draft, which netted University of Virginia third baseman Ryan Zimmerman and outfield prospect Justin Maxwell.

Boone joined Washington after spending the 2004 campaign with Philadelphia as a Special Assignment Scout, a position he accepted on December 3, 2003 after a 22-year hiatus from the Phillies organization.

One of the premier catchers of his generation, Bob was named to four All-Star teams (1976, 78-79, 83) and won seven Rawlings Gold Gloves (1978-79, 82, 86-89), including two at ages 40 and 41, during his 19-year career. Only Ivan Rodriguez (13) and Johnny Bench (10) have won more Gold Gloves for catching.

Selected by the Phillies in the sixth round of the 1969 draft as a third baseman out of Stanford University—where he graduated with a degree in psychology—Boone spent the first en years of his major league career with Philadelphia (1972-81), which won four division titles and one World Series Championship in 1980.

Following his tenure with the Phillies, Boone played for Anaheim (1982-88) and Kansas City (1989-90). Upon retirement, Boone held the major league record for games caught in a career (2225), a record which was later broken by Carlton Fisk, and most seasons catching at least 100 games (15).

In October of 1994, Boone was named manager of the Kansas City Royals, a position he held until July of 1997. Following tenure with Kansas City, Boone joined Cincinnati as a special assistant under (then) GM Jim Bowden before serving as manager of the Reds from 2001 until July of 2003.

Bob was born on November 19, 1947 in San Diego, CA and resides in Villa Park, CA with his wife, Sue. Two of their sons played major league baseball and achieved All-Star status: Bret (three-time All-Star, retired) and Aaron (2003 NL All-Star, currently with Washington). His father, the late Ray Boone, was an All-Star infielder during his 13-year career in the big leagues (1948-60). Bob's brother, Rodney, played in the Kansas City and Houston farm systems from 1972-75. The Boones are one of only three 3-generation baseball families, along with the Bells (Gus, Buddy and David) and the Hairstons (Sam, Jerry Sr. and Jerry Jr.).

Assistant GM & VP, Baseball Administration

Squire Galbreath enters his fifth season with the Nationals, his second full campaign as Assistant General Manager, Baseball Administration. Galbreath initially joined the Nationals as Special Advisor to the General Manager in late 2004.

Galbreath's primary duties include, but are not limited to, coordinating player transactions, rule compliance, strategic planning and managing the day-to-day business and financial activities related to the Nationals Baseball Operations Department. He also serves as a liaison for the department and coordinated special projects for the Senior Vice President and General Manager.

Since assuming his current post, Galbreath has assisted in brokering deals that helped establish the Nationals in international baseball circles, most notably in the Far East and in Mexico. In February of 2007, Galbreath announced that the Nationals had signed their first working agreement with an international club, the Tabasco Olmecas of the Mexican Summer League. Galbreath has also played a role in the recent signings of Player Development Contracts with the Nationals' minor league affiliates.

In addition to owning a minority stake in and working for the Nationals, Galbreath is Managing Partner of Darby Dan Farm, a 3,000 acre farm in Columbus, OH. He was President of the Florida region for The Galbreath Company, a 75 year-old family owned international commercial real estate company, for five years.

Galbreath is a third generation member of the Galbreath family involved in baseball; former owners of the Pittsburgh Pirates for 39 years, having won the World Series in 1960, 1971 and 1979. His grandfather, John W. Galbreath—once described as a "world-class builder, sportsman and philanthropist" by the Columbus Dispatch—is the only person to win a World Series and a Kentucky Derby.

A native of Columbus, OH, Galbreath received a bachelor's degree in business administration/communications from Rollins College in Florida in 1983, before earning his master's in business administration from Duke University in 1988. Galbreath and his wife, Alison, have four children: Caroline (3/10/97), John III (10/9/98), Charlotte (1/11/00) and William (4/16/01).

DANA BROWN

Director, Scouting

Dana Brown enters his eighth season as Director of Scouting for the Nationals/Expos organization. He was promoted to his current post as a member of the Expos front office on March 7, 2002, after working with the Pittsburgh organization for eight years as area scouting supervisor and East Coast scouting coordinator.

With a major influence over the organization's last seven drafts, he has played a part in the selections of Ryan Zimmerman (2005, first round), John Lannan (2005, 11thround), Collin Balester (2004, fourth round), Jason Bergmann (2002, 11th round) and Justin Maxwell (2005, fourth round). He also drafted All-Star Chad Cordero and Bill Bray, who was an essential cog in the Nationals' acquisition of Austin Kearns, Felipe Lopez and Ryan Wagner from Cincinnati in an eight-player trade in July 2006.

Over the last two drafts, in particular, the Nationals have stockpiled their system with a number of talented young stars.

In 2007, they selected Ross Detwiler (first round), Josh Smoker (sandwich round), Michael Burgess (sandwich round), Jordan Zimmermann (fourth round), Derek Norris (seventh round), Jack McGeary (ninth round) and Bill Rhinehart (14th round). That draft class was later rated as the "best in baseball" by industry-expert Baseball America.

Last season's draft was highlighted by the selections of Destin Hood (second round), Daniel Espinosa (third round), Graham Hicks (fourth round), Adrian Nieto (fifth round), Marcus Jones (11th round), J.P. Ramirez (15th round) and others.

A graduate of Seton Hall University, Brown played with Pirate teammates Craig Biggio, Mo Vaughn and John Valentin in 1987 prior to being drafted by Philadelphia in 1989 as an outfielder. On February 21, 2008, Brown was inducted into SHU's Athletic Hall of Fame.

He played three pro seasons in the Phillies' chain before enjoying a two-year stint as a minor-league coach. Brown began his scouting career in 1994. Dana and wife, Casandra Waters, have 2 children—Dana Jr. and Autumn—and live in Franklin Park, NJ.

In 2001, he began a two-year stint with the Arizona Fall League which culminated when he was promoted to Director of Baseball Operations for the 2002 campaign. He broke into baseball as a Baseball Operations intern for the COL in 1997. Parker was a media relations assistant with the Buffalo Bills of the NFL from 1998-2000.

Director, Player Development

Bobby Williams enters his third season as the Nationals' Director of Player Development and his fifth season overall with the organization. Prior to joining the Nationals, Williams worked five years in CIN's minor league chain coaching at various levels from 2000-04. Prior to joining the Expos, he served three years (1999-01) with the Marlins as Baseball Operations Assistant. COACHING CAREER

Cultivated advancement of young pitching staff in 2008...staff's 4.66 ERA ranked 14th in the NL, 24th in MLB...worked with 25 pitchers, 9 of which were rookies...7 of the 9 rookie pitchers made MLB debuts in 2008: Collin Balester, Marco Estrada, Mike Hinckley, Charlie Manning, Shairon Martis, Garrett Mock and Steven Shell...with 1063 strikeouts, the Nationals staff posted 132 more K's than the previous season in 13.2 fewer innings (6.7 K's per 9.0 innings in 2008 compared to 5.8 per 9.0 in '07)...weathered serious injuries to Shawn Hill, Chad Cordero and Matt Chico...helped John Lannan (9-15, 3.91 ERA, 21 quality starts in 31 assignments) and closer Joel Hanrahan (93 strikeouts in 84.1 innings while assuming the Nationals closer's role in the 2nd half) produce breakout seasons.

Despite entering '07 Spring with only one starting spot solidified (John Patterson, 7 starts), pieced together remarkable effort as the Nationals' 4.58 ERA ranked 10th in NL...strength of staff came from bullpen (3.81 'pen ERA ranked 4th in MLB)...season's efforts were highlighted by performances of 20-somethings Shawn Hill (3.42 ERA and 11 quality starts in 16 assignments), Matt Chico (7 wins led all Nationals starters), Jason Bergmann (.231 batting average against would have ranked 6th in the NL with enough innings) and Jon Rauch (33 holds tied for 3rd in MLB)...worked with 9 rookies.

Cemented status as one of MLB's top pitching practitioners in 2006...worked with a franchise single-season record 29 pitchers (12 starters)...staff ace John Patterson made only 8 starts due to injury...saddled with MLB's worst defense...connected with Jon Rauch (18 holds, .231 batting average against).

In 2005, staked claim to be rated among MLB's best pitching coaches battled attrition, as 25 pitchers toed the rubber for Washington (15 starters)...staff helped the club go 81-81, thus winning 14 more games than the season prior...Washington's 2.95 bullpen ERA after the All-Star break paced the NL among 'pens...for 3rd straight year, Livan Hernandez led the NL in innings (246.1)...John Patterson posted long-awaited break-out season (9-7, 3.13 ERA, 31 starts).

In 2004, staff performed at high level despite significant injuries to 4 of 5 starting pitchers (Tony Armas Jr., Zach Day, Tomo Ohka and John Patterson)...despite tough luck and the employment of 22 pitchers (12 starters), Expos posted a 4.33 team ERA...broke in 4 rookie pitchers (Chad Bentz, Shawn Hill, Joe Horgan and Gary Majewski)...Hernandez led MLB in innings (255.0) and tied for the lead in starts (35)...Chad Cordero's 14 saves established a new franchise rookie record...in 2003 debut as pitching coach, staff performed at a high level despite employing 25 different pitchers...lost 4 projected starting pitchers to injury for extended periods, including Orlando Hernandez (did not pitch in 2003) and Tony Armas Jr. (made only 5 starts)...St. Claire's starting staff ranked 4th in MLB—3rd in the NL—with a 3.82 ERA...his starters also led the NL with 15 complete games (only OAK, with 16, recorded more in MLB)...helped Livan Hernandez, who accounted for 8 of Montreal's aforementioned 15 complete games, regain top form...in the bullpen, nurtured the Long-limbed righthander made long-awaited big league debut in '08...entered the '08 season rated as the Nationals' highest-rated right-handed pitching prospect according to Baseball America...after entering 2007 as the Nationals' No. 1 prospect, enters 2008 rated No. 3, the top right-handed pitcher (OF/1B Chris Marrero and LHP Ross Detwiler enter 2007 ranked No. 1 and 2, respectively)...was rated No. 2 by BA entering 2006...rated by same publication as Washington's No. 10 prospect entering 2005...represented the Nationals in the 2007 XM Futures Game, played at SBC Park in San Francisco.

In first taste of big leagues, pitched better than 3-7, 5.51 ERA numbers indicate...made 15 starts after having contract selected from Columbus, June 30...walked 2 or less 10 times...combining Triple-A and big league stats, went 12-10 with a 4.76 ERA (84 ER/158.2 IP) in 30 starts and finished the campaign just 4 months past 22nd birthday...held opponents without a hit through the game's first 3 innings on 5 occasions...thus, posted a .210 batting average against the first time through the lineup, .338 thereafter...ranked among NL rookies in starts (tied for 7th, 15) and innings (9th, 80.0).

Game-By-Game Highlights: By allowing just one run on one hit in 5.0 innings, July 1 at FLA, posted the "W" and became only the 2nd franchise pitcher to garner a win in an MLB debut on the road (immortal Expos RHP Hal Dues had previously turned the trick on Sept. 9, 1977 at PIT)...in 2nd inning of that initial start, fanned Cody Ross for first big league punch out...earned the win at Derek Lowe's expense, August 26 vs. LAD, allowing one run in 5.0 innings.

BOTH BELTWAYS

The list may not be as long as one you'd see in New York or Chicago, but entering the 2009 season, one manager, 3 coaches and 10 players have suited up for both the Washington Nationals and BAL (in the same role):

MANAGER	COACHES	PLAYERS
Frank Robinson	Don Buford	RHP Winston Abreu
	Davey Lopes	INF Tony Batista
	Tom McCraw	RHP Hector Carrasco
		INF Bernie Castro
		INF Deivi Cruz
		LHP John Halama
		OF Jeffrey Hammonds
		INF/OF Willie Harris
		OF Luis Matos
		C Keith Osik

ADDITIONAL NOTES: Hector Carrasco was the first player to don the jerseys of both the Orioles and Nationals...Dave Huppert played for BAL and coached for the Nationals...meanwhile, Frank Robinson played for and managed BAL before later managing Washington.

Washington

Game-By-Game Highlights: On April 11 vs. ATL, in self-described best big league start, allowed just one run on 5 hits in career-best 8.0 innings, but took the loss in a 3-0 setback...walked just one and struck out 3, but was out dueled by Tim Hudson, who won his 5th straight decision at the Nationals' expense since joining the Braves.

In minor leagues: Pitched in one game—allowing 4 runs in 4.0 innings—for Columbus of the Triple-A International League, May 31 at Buffalo, but did not pitch thereafter.

Entered '07 never having pitched above Double-A, exceeded expectations in true rookie season, going 7-9 with a 4.63 ERA in 31 starts with Washington...led the Nationals pitchers with 31 starts, 167.0 innings and 94 strikeouts...7 wins also led Nationals starters...31 starts ranked 2nd among MLB rookie leaders in starts behind only BOS' Daisuke Matsuzaka (32)...paced NL rookie pitchers in starts (first) and innings (first)...also ranked among NL rookie pitchers in winning percentage (3rd, .438), strikeouts (4th), wins (tied for 4th), ERA (9th, 4.63) and batting average against (9th, .281)...allowed 3 earned runs or less in 20 of 31 starts (65%)...struggled after the All-Star break, going 1-2 with a 6.50 ERA in 7 starts, before being optioned to Triple-A Columbus after taking the loss, August 17 vs. NYM...returned to the Nationals on September 1 after 2 IL starts...went 2-2 with a 3.38 ERA in 6 Sept. starts...walked only 9 batters in those 6 September outings or 2.3 per 9.0 innings pitched...had issued an average of 4.4 walks per 9 innings (65 BB/132.1 IP) in his 25 starts before being sent to Columbus...became just the 3rd rookie in franchise annals to reach the 30-start plateau, joining RHP Javier Vazquez (32 in 1998) and RHP Carl Morton (37 in 1970)...when toeing the rubber, the Nationals went 16-15...nabbed first MLB win in a frigid 5-1 win, April 16 vs. ATL (first pitch temperature was 47 degrees, but wind gusts were at/near 40 mph)...in 5.0 innings of work, allowed one run on 4 hits and 5 walks...did not record a K...in the last 70 years, only 2 other starting pitchers picked up their first MLB win despite walking at least 5 and fanning none: HOU's Gil Rondon (1976) and SEA's Jim Converse (1993)...went without a win in first 12 road starts until notching victories in each of final 2 road assignments, Sept. 24 at NYM and Sept. 29 at PHI...2 starts were cut short due to rain delays: May 12 vs. FLA (one run allowed in 4.1 innings) and May 27 at STL (4.0 scoreless innings)...4 times exited starts with the lead, but was relegated to a no-decision as the 'pen squandered the lead...was saddled with team-high 10 unearned runs...worked team season-high 13.0 straight scoreless innings, June 29-July 4...posted a .244 batting average against the first time through the lineup, .302 thereafter.

Game-By-Game Highlights: Fired 7.0 shut-out innings to earn win in July 4th 6-0 victory vs. CHI...did not walk a single Cub and fanned 4...on September 29, earned 2nd win in as many starts despite pitching on Fox Game of the Week and in front of Citizens Bank Park sellout...allowed one run on 4 hits in 6.0 stoic-yet-spectacular innings as the Nationals dented PHI's post-season aspirations with a 4-2 victory.

In minor leagues: Was optioned to Columbus on Aug. 17...walked 4 in 6.0 one-hit shut-out innings in initial IL assignment, Aug. 22 vs. Louisville...threw 182 pitches during the 2 starts, 113 of which were strikes (62%).

Acquired by the Nationals from ARI along with RHP Garrett Mock on August 7 in exchange for RHP Livan Hernandez...with trade, was assigned to Harrisburg of the Double-A Eastern League, and went 2-0 with a 3.27 ERA in 4 starts (2 quality starts)...started the year with ARI's Lancaster club of the Single-A California League...went 3-4 with a 3.75 ERA in 10 starts before a May 27 promotion to Double-A Tennessee...was 7-2 with a 2.22 ERA and a .211 batting average against in 13 starts with Tennessee upon being dealt to Washington...allowed just 62 hits in 81.0 innings of work overall with Tennessee (6.9 hits per 9.0 innings)...with Lancaster, notched the organization's Minor League Pitcher of the Month honor for April (2-1 with a 1.53 ERA in 5 starts)...with Tennessee, went 6-0 with a 1.87 ERA (9 ER/43.1 IP) in his last 7 starts beginning June 28...went 4-0 with a 2.03 ERA in 5 July starts and was named ARI's Minor League Pitcher of the Month...pitching for Tennessee, June 1 vs. Carolina, clubbed his first pro homer, a 2-run blast.

2005

Began the season at Tennessee as one of the youngest players in the Double-A Southern League...after 10 starts, was reassigned to Single-A Lancaster May 29...went 6-0 with a 3.41 ERA in final 14 starts with Lancaster...was named ARI's Minor League Pitcher of the Month for July (3-0, 1.82 ERA, 6 starts)...also notched California League Pitcher of the Week honors for periods ending July 24 (1-0, 1.38 ERA, 2 starts) and August 28 (1-0, 1.35 ERA, 2 starts).

2004

Received first taste of the Double-A level with El Paso of the Texas League after a June 21 promotion from Single-A South Bend of the Midwest League...notched ARI's Pitcher of the Month honors for April (4-0, 1.17 ERA in 4 starts).

CAREER

Again looks to return from injury in 2008...has missed large portions of various seasons due to the following injuries: right wrist (2008), right femur fracture (2007), fractured right cheekbone (2004) and stress fracture in right hand (2003)...contrary to perhaps popular belief, has produced stronger offensive numbers in 5 years with the Nationals/Expos (.276 batting average, .407 on-base percentage, .475 slugging percentage) than during 3-year tenure with NYY (.256/.376/.424)...with health, is a wildly productive player...has been vastly superior against left-handed pitchers (.286) during career as opposed to against righthanders (.263), however, only 14 of 81 career long balls have come against southpaws...in the Nationals' 4 seasons in DC, has twice (2005, '06) led the club in batting, and by doing so, became the first franchise player to lead the club in batting in consecutive seasons since Vlad Guerrero ('02-03)...teammates with SS Cristian Guzman on 1996 GCL Yankees championship club.

2008

Completed long and painful return from Sept. 2006 fractured right femur, but again fell victim to injury, missing the season's final 4.5 months with a right wrist injury...hit .220 with 8 doubles, 5 home runs and 20 RBI in 38 games before sustaining a right wrist tendon sheath injury on a swing, May 13 at NYM...coincidentally, the injury came in the same ballpark as the 2006 fractured right femur...had season-ending surgery to repair the tendon sheath in the right wrist performed by Dr. Richard Berger on June 24, 2008 in DC...at time of injury, was tied for the team lead with 4 game-winning RBI...also at the time of injury, 33 walks ranked 2nd in MLB behind only STL's Albert Pujols (40)...in fact, led the Nationals in walks until August 15, when Ronnie Belliard notched his 33rd free pass...walked once every 4.45 plate appearances (Adam Dunn led MLB by walking once every 5.34 plate appearances)...took career-best 4.29 pitches per plate appearance, a figure that prorated would have tied for 4th in MLB.

2007

Worked in conjuction with Nationals doctors, training staff, as well as strength and conditioning staff on intense rehab program constructed to overcome affects of fracured right femur, sustained on September 23 at NYM...had 2 subsequent surgeries in 2007 to remove hardware...on January 16, had a distal screw removed in a procedure performed by Dr. Richard Marder...on August 21, had final hardware removal performed by Dr. David Lewellen at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, MN...began taking batting practice on July 31.

After signing 3-year contract extension (that runs through 2009 season), quietly turned in one of the best offensive seasons in the NL...seemed destined to complete first injury-free campaign, but suffered fractured right femur on a freak collision with RF Austin Kearns in the 8th inning on September 23 at NYM (came on a David Wright popup in "no man's land")...had successful surgery performed by Dr. Peter Dzenis and Nationals orthopedist Dr. Ben Shaffer that night at Queens Hospital New York...regardless, did not make a trip to the DL for the first time in career...hit .290 (145-for-500) with 46 doubles, 23 home runs, 77 RBI, 11 stolen bases and 110 walks in 147 games...posted career highs in both on-base (.428) and slugging (.520) percentages...posted career highs in virtually every offensive category...ranked among NL leaders in doubles (tied for 7th), walks (tied for 3rd), IBB (tied for 7th with 15), on-base percentage (4th), OPS (8th at .948) and HBP (tied for 10th with 13)...lived up to "patient hitter" label by ranking 2nd in NL having seen 4.28 pitches per plate appearance...led the NL by earning a walk once every 5.71 plate appearances...ranked 3rd in MLB having taken 64.9 percent of pitches seen...took 1746 pitches in all to rank 4th in MLB...recorded 2nd-best single-season on-base percentage (.428) in franchise annals (Tim Raines posted a .429 OBP in 1987)...the .428 OBP was the best posted by a franchise left-handed batter...joined SFG's Barry Bonds, SDP's Brian Giles and HOU's Morgan Ensberg as the only 4 players to walk 100 or more times in 2006, yet not record 100 or more strikeouts...'06 totals also rank among franchise's single-season top 10 in doubles (tied for 4th), walks (tied for 5th) and OPS (9th)...with 100 runs scored, combined with Alfonso Soriano to become the 5th set of franchise teammates to score 100 or more runs (first since Vlad Guerrero and Jose Vidro in 2002)...for first time in career, played in vast majority of games (147)...batted above .300 in April (.341), June (.318) and September/October (.304)...hit cleanup for Frank Robinson 112 times...46 doubles and 110 walks established franchise single-season records for a first baseman.

CAREER

In one-plus big league seasons, has recorded a quality start in 23 of 37 career assignments (62%)...in 2007, was named the Nationals' Minor League Pitcher of the Year after beginning the campaign in Single-A and 3 stops later, made 6 starts for the Nationals in big league debut...became the 2nd member of the Nationals' initial 2005 draft to reach the big leagues (3B Ryan Zimmerman was the first).

Turned in one of the top rookie seasons in franchise history, going 9-15 with a 3.91 ERA in 31 starts...earned spot on Topps All-Rookie Team...was assigned to Columbus of the Triple-A International League to begin the season, and was slated to start the Clippers' opener, but was recalled to Washington on April 5 as Chad Cordero was placed on the DL... was victim of poor run support, as 3.76 runs of support per 9.0 innings rated as the 7th lowest in MLB (5th lowest in NL) among qualifying pitchers...posted 21 quality starts, going 8-7 with a 2.00 ERA (30 ER/135.0 IP) when working at least 6.0 innings and allowing no more than 3 earned runs...became just the 3rd Washington National (2005-present) to reach the 20 quality-start plateau, joining Esteban Loaiza (24 in 2005) and Livan Hernandez (22 in 2005)...tied for 3rd in MLB with 13 quality starts on the road (FLA's Ricky Nolasco and NYM's Johan Santana posted 14 apiece)...21 QS tied for 5th among rookie pitchers beginning with the 1986 campaign...in the same 23-year span, the only rookie pitchers to post more quality starts were RHP Joe Blanton (22 with OAK in '05), Dave Flemming (22 with SEA in '92), Chris Holt (22 with HOU in '97) and Matt Morris (22 with STL in '97)...the 21 quality starts also tied Bill Lee (21 in '79) for the 2nd-most ever posted in a single season by a franchise left-handed pitcher...only Expos southpaw Ross Grimsley (26 in 1978) posted more...in 7 no-decisions, Washington went 0-7...thus, became the first pitcher whose team went 0-7 or worse in no-decisions since CLE went winless in Jake Westbrook's 7 no-decisions in 2006...posted a Washington Nationals record (2005-present) consecutive scoreless innings streak of 21.0 (2nd inning on April 17 start at NYM through 2nd inning on May 2 vs. PIT)...eclipsed Hector Carrasco's now-former Nationals record of 20.2 consecutive scoreless innings, set September 13-October 2, 2005...ranked among NL leaders in road ERA (8th at 3.19), losses (3rd with 15) and quality starts (tied for 8th with 21)...ranked among qualifying MLB rookies in ERA (4th at 3.91), starts (tied for 3rd with 31), innings (5th with 182), wins (tied for 6th with 9), strikeouts (5th with 112), batting average against (3rd at .252) and quality starts (first with 21)...went 2-0 with a 2.18 ERA in 5 games/4 starts for Washington this spring to nearly earn Opening Night roster spot.

Game-By-Game Highlights: Struck out a career-best 11, left in line for the win, but took a no-decision on April 17 at NYM...in all, allowed one run on 3 hits in 6.0 innings...in that game, became the first franchise rookie to strike out 10 or more since Brian Barnes fanned 11, June 2, 1991 vs. CHI...in next start on April 22 at ATL, watched John Smoltz record 3000th strikeout, but out-pitched the future Hall-of-Famer to grab the win in Washington's 6-0 victory.

In just 3rd season as a pro, was named Nationals Minor League Pitcher of the Year...pitched beyond years in 6 starts with the Nationals after beginning '07 with Potomac of the Single-A Carolina League...before winning an organizational-best 14 games at 4 levels in '07, had won 9 games in 2 pro seasons...went 2-2 with a 4.15 ERA in 6 starts in major league debut after having contract selected by the Nationals on July 26...recalled earlier in the morning, made big league debut on July 26 at PHI...did not get a decision, allowing 5 runs (4 earned) on 6 hits in 4.1 innings in game eventually won by Washington, 7-6…walked 2 and fanned one (Ryan Howard for first MLB strikeout) before becoming just the 5th player in MLB history to be ejected in a Major League debut...was joined on this list by CIN's Aaron Boone (June 20, 1997 for throwing helmet after being thrown out at home plate on single), OAK's Doug Johns (July 8, 1995 for throwing at a batter), MIL's Sid Roberson (May 20, 1995 for throwing at a batter after a warning) and PHI's Andy Carter (May 3, 1994 for hitting 2 of 3 batters faced)…was ejected by HP-umpire Hunter Wendelstedt after hitting Howard in the 5th (one offering after hitting Chase Utley with a pitch)…the ejection was heavily scrutinized, however, as it came with the Nationals trailing by only one run and, per Washington's contention, was simply due to a case of wildness (was ahead in the count, 0-2, to Utley)...pitched well and received substantial run support to grab first big league win in a 7-2 victory, August 1 vs. CIN...was optioned to Columbus, August 26...completed '07 in good health, but wasn't promoted in September as the Nationals had concerns about mounting innings.

Game-By-Game Highlights: Tossed a season-high 7.0 innings of one-run ball on 2 occasions, August 6 at San Francisco (no-decision) and August 11 at Arizona (loss)...in August 6 start at SFG, with the nation watching Barry Bonds' bid to hit career homer No. 756, retired Bonds 3 times (popout, GIDP, K) and walked him once...pitched well, August 11 at ARI, allowing one run on 4 hits in 7.0 innings, but took the loss (was out dueled by defending Cy Young Award-winner Brandon Webb, who went the distance in ARI's 1-0 win).

In Minor Leagues: Went a combined 12-3 with a 2.31 ERA (32 ER/124.2 IP) in 21 games (20 starts) at 3 levels (Triple-A Columbus, Double-A Harrisburg, Single-A Potomac) in Washington's system...led Washington farmhands in ERA and ranked 2nd in wins...was named to the Carolina League mid-season All-Star team...did not participate in the game against the California League All-Stars due to May 21 promotion to Harrisburg...registered a stingy .152 (17-for-112) batting average against when facing opposing IL left-handed batters.

Pitching for Savannah of the Single-A South Atlantic League in first complete season as a pro, won 6 games, made 25 starts, fanned 7.4 batters per inning and registered a .275 batting average against...recorded 12 quality starts, including 8 in final 12 assignments...walked just 24 and struck out 61 in those final 12 starts...was touched for only one homer in 92 at-bats against opposing left-handed batters.

Pitched in 14 games (11 starts) in pro debut with Vermont of the short-season Single-A NY-P League...struggled early (6.68 ERA through August 5), but notched quality starts in 4 of final 5 assignments.

PERSONAL

John Edward Lannan...majored in marketing and management at Siena (NY) College...in 3 seasons at Siena, went 17-9 with a 3.56 ERA...won school-record 10 games in third and final season with the Saints...was named 2nd-team All-MAAC and 2nd-team All-Northeast Region as a junior after posting 8 complete games, 2 shutouts and a .210 batting average against...in final start at Siena, tossed a 5-hit shutout against Manhattan in first round of MAAC Tournament... was a 2002 graduate of Chaminade (NY) High.

CAREER

An imposing presence both at and behind the plate...offers strong throwing arm to keep opposing baserunners at bay... at completion of 2008 Triple-A season, after driving 17 hours from Columbus to home in Lafayette, LA—and driving through teeth of tropical storm Gustav, was home for just 30 minutes before learning of first big league promotion... immediately repacked bags and headed for Atlanta to join the Nationals in the midst of a roadtrip.

2008

After playing in 100 or more games for the first time, unexpectedly had contract selected from Triple-A Columbus on September 2 when Jesus Flores sustained an ankle injury in home-plate collision with Chase Utley on September 2 vs. PHI...made big league debut as starting catcher, September 4 at ATL...formed battery with RHP Shairon Martis, who was also making his big league debut...thus, formed the first battery in which both the pitcher and catcher were making an MLB debut since Luther Hackman and Ben Petrick turned the trick for COL, September 1, 1999 vs. PIT.....first big league hit was RBI single, September 14 at FLA, off Anibal Sanchez...clubbed first big league homer, a solo blast off Kyle Kendrick, on final day of season, September 28 at PHI...gunned down 3 of 9 (33%) would-be basestealers.

Began the season in the minor leagues with New Orleans of the Triple-A Pacific Coast League, but returned to the big leagues on May 5 and pitched well for the Mets...won first 3 starts with NYM, joining Bob Shaw ('66), Sid Fernandez ('84), Bobby Ojeda ('86) and Pedro Astacio ('02) as the only Mets to achieve this feat...finished 3-0 with a 1.78 ERA against the NL Central...posted batting average against of .202 when facing right-handed batters...was placed on the 15-Day DL, July 1, with a strained left hamstring.

2006

Struggled with ATL and was dealt to STL at the July 31 trading deadline...tallied single-season career-high 4 saves, 3 of which came with ATL...at the plate, hit only 3 home runs of career (July 17 at STL off Josh Kinney, May 23 at SDP off Mike Thompson, April 6 at SFG off Jeff Fassero).

2005

Acquired by ATL at the end of Spring Training...in best big league campaign, went 13-3 with a 2.55 ERA as trade paid immediate dividends for ATL...with 13-3 mark, led the NL in winning percentage (.813)...went 9-0 on the road...finished 10-3 with a 2.62 ERA in starting role...notched 4 holds and a 2.30 ERA when pitching out of the bullpen...posted quality start, but took the loss in Game 4 of the NLDS against HOU.

2004

Pitched primarily out of bullpen with TBR...struck out career-high 94 in 99.0 innings, or 8.5 per 9.0 innings...pocketed first big league save with 2.2 scoreless innings, May 22 vs. CLE...capped the season in TBR's starting rotation.

2003

In sophomore campaign with the Devil Rays, significantly improved home run rate (one long ball every 9.0 innings) compared to rookie season (one homer every 6.1 innings)...on Aug. 17 at CLE, fanned 8 to set a franchise record for K's by a relief pitcher.

2002

Was selected by MIL in the 2001 Rule 5 Draft, however, was claimed off waivers by TBR in midst of Spring Training... posted .236 batting average against in 31 games (14 starts) for the Devil Rays as true rookie...recorded more walks (54) than strikeouts (48).

2001

Combined to go 3-1 with 7 saves and a 1.95 ERA in 60 appearances with Everett of the Rookie-level Northwest League and Wisconsin of the Single-A Midwest League...effort earned not only Northwest League All-Star reliever status, but was named SEA's Minor League Pitcher of the Year.

CAREER

Looks to return to the big leagues with Washington in 2009...a control specialist in every sense of the word...from 2000-08, has issued just 1.50 walks per 9.0 innings pitched to rank 6th in MLB among those to make 100 or more starts in the same 9-year span...with 13, matched Gustavo Chacin for Blue Jays team lead in wins in 2005.

2008

Did not pitch in the big leagues for the first time since 2001, going 6-7 with a 6.27 ERA in 31 games (15 starts) with Colorado Springs of the Triple-A Pacific Coast League...pitched best (2-1, 2.70 ERA. .261 batting average against, 16 appearances) out of the bullpen...struggled at high-altitude Sky Sox Stadium (4-5, 7.12 ERA, 17 games/9 starts).

2007

Final season with the Blue Jays...entered Spring Training as non-roster invitee, but earned Opening Day roster slot and was a member of TOR's rotation as the 5th starter...did not allow an earned run in 3 of 15 starts...finished 3-4 with a 3.94 ERA at Rogers Centre, but was 2-6 with a 7.35 ERA on the road...10 relief appearances were a career high...finished 2-3 with a 2.35 ERA in day games...tossed 6.2 scoreless inning to pocket final win with TOR on July 21 vs. SEA.

2006

Began '06 in TOR's rotation, but endured first of 2 Triple-A stints in May...lone quality start (3 runs/2 earned in 8.0 innings) netted a win, May 14 at TBR...recorded only career hit, a 5th-inning single, May 19, 2006 at COL off Aaron Cook.

Won career-high 13 games and made career-best 33 starts for TOR in first complete big league campaign...led the Blue Jays with a 3.71 ERA and 208.2 innings, both of which were career-best efforts...112 strikeouts were career high... tossed 2nd career shutout on August 12 at BAL...walked 2 or less in 32 of 33 starts...en route to team-high 21 quality starts, notched 12 straight QS from July 21-September 20...ranked among NL leaders in night ERA (4th, 2.94), walks per 9.0 innings (5th, 1.3), strikeout-to-walk ratio (7th, 3.86/1) and quality starts (tied for 8th, 21).

2004

Was member of TOR's Opening Day roster, made 21 starts and won 9 games with the Blue Jays...after stint with Syracuse, went 4-0 with a 2.60 ERA in July...missed pair of starts in September with right shoulder soreness.

2003

After signing with TOR as a minor-league free agent and spending the season's first 6 weeks in Syracuse, went 8-1 in 14 games (8 starts) with the Jays...pitching in relief, notched the win in TOR debut on May 26 vs. CWS...won 7 straight decisions, August 15 through season's end...was ejected, September 23 vs. TOR, for throwing behind Aubrey Huff.

2002

Struggled at both big league level and at Triple-A with Rochester of the International League, going winless in 12 starts... with the Red Wings, endured pair of DL stints with right-elbow tendinitis.

2006

Performed well after being acquired from CIN on July 13 as part of an 8-player trade...the least heralded of the 3 players acquired from CIN, however, proved worth, posting a 3-3 record, 3 holds and a 4.70 ERA in 26 games out of the bullpen...after the trade, reported to Triple-A New Orleans...in 5 PCL appearances with the Zephyrs from July 17-29, scattered 4 hits in 8.0 scoreless innings to earn promotion to DC...was recalled on July 31 and made debut with the Nationals that night at SFG, earning a hold...after struggling in first 2 appearances, posted a fine 3.54 ERA in final 24 appearances with Washington...capped the season not allowing a home run since August 14 vs. ATL (24 appearances or 24.2 innings ago)...worked 13.2 straight innings without allowing an earned run, August 19-September 7.

Game-By-Game Highlights: Fanned 3 in 2.0 scoreless innings, August 25 at ATL, and pocketed first win as a National (and first at the big league level since July 4, 2005 at SFG).

Selected by CIN as the 14th overall pick in the First-Year Player Draft, and after just 9 minor league appearances with Double-A Chattanooga and Triple-A Louisville, made his major league debut on July 19...spent the remainder of season with the big league club, going 2-0 with 6 holds and a 1.66 ERA in 17 games...in debut July 19 vs. HOU, came on in relief to start the 7th, and retired all 5 batters he faced...turned 21 years old just 4 days prior to his debut... became the youngest pitcher to appear for CIN since lefthander Rosario Rodriguez debuted in 1989 at 20 years, 55 days...tossed 6.0 straight shutout innings in first 5 games...posted a .173 batting average against and struck out 25 times in 21.1 innings...picked up first big league win — despite suffering a blown save — August 2 vs. SFG...finished first pro campaign with 5 holds and 10.2 consecutive scoreless innings in final 8 appearances...with Chattanooga, tossed 5.0 shutout innings before a July 3 promotion to Louisville...made just 4 appearances there before having his contract purchased by CIN.

CAREER

One of MLB's undisputed young star attractions...following 2008 season, was rated by Bill James as the No. 12 player under the age of 30 in MLB.....finished 2nd in 2006 Rookie of the Year voting...finished just 4 points behind FLA's Hanley Ramirez in voting conducted by the BBWAA...was the 2nd player, the first position player, from the 2005 First-Year Player Draft to reach the big leagues (ATL RHP Joey Devine—27th overall—was first)...was the 2nd of 2 Virginians to be selected in the first 4 picks of the 2005 First-Year Player Draft (SS Justin Upton from Great Bridge, VA was taken by ARI with the draft's first overall selection)...baseball experience expands far beyond the college level, as he was named MVP at the FIFU II World University Games, played during the summer of 2004 in Taiwan...led or tied for the Team USA club lead in all 3 triple crown categories, hitting .468 with 4 home runs and 27 RBI...for his efforts, was named USA Baseball's Athlete of the Year in 2004...while playing for Team USA, was teammates with 3B Alex Gordon, who was taken 2nd overall by KCR in the 2005 First-Year Player Draft...defensive propensity at the hot corner forced Gordon's shift to first base for the summer...using wood bats, summer offensive numbers (.468, 4 homers, 27 RBI) also out-produced those of Gordon (.388, 4 homers, 12 RBI)...played summer ball with, among others David Wright and B.J. Upton during their high school days in the Norfolk/Virginia Beach, VA-area.

After playing all but 5 games the previous 2 seasons, battled first significant injury of career while hitting .283 with 24 doubles, 14 home runs and 51 RBI in 106 games in 3rd complete big league campaign...missed 48 games from May 26-July 22 with a small labral tear in the left (non-throwing) shoulder...sustained the injury while sliding head-first into second base, May 18 at BAL...in 56 games after returning from the injury, batted .306 with 13 doubles, 6 homers and 24 RBI...endured slow April (.233), but hit .301 with 18 doubles, 11 home runs and 38 RBI in 78 contests thereafter...in inaugural contest at Nationals Park, March 30, hit game-ending solo shot with 2 outs in the 9th inning to become just the 3rd player in MLB history to hit a game-ending home run in the first game at a MLB ballpark (Billy Burton, April 14, 1953 vs. STL at MIL's County Stadium; Dante Bichette, April 26, 1995 vs. NYM at Coors Field)...voluntary day off on May 4 vs. PIT ended string of 205 consecutive starts (had started every game since Sept. 18, 2006, when Melvin Dorta was Frank Robinson's starting 3B for a day)...50th career homer was a 3rd-inning go-ahead 2-run shot off John Maine, May 13 at NYM...fielding was again stellar as evidenced by career-best .967 fielding percentage...among those to play 100 or more games at 3B this season, led MLB in total chances per 9.0 innings (3.00) and putouts per 9.0 innings (0.94)...blasted opposing left-handed pitchers (.333 / .370 / .493)...9 of 14 homers came against NL East foes.

Game-By-Game Highlights: In season's 3rd game, solo homer off Cole Hamels accounted for only run in Nationals' 1-0 win, April 2 at PHI...3-for-4, 3-RBI effort on April 29 vs. ATL included a homer and game-winning 2-run double in the 8th inning.

In minor leagues: After aforementioned left-shoulder injury, went 7-for-25 (.280) with 3 doubles and one homer (July 20 vs. Indianapolis) and 3 RBI during 6-game rehab assignment with Columbus (4 games) of the Triple-A International League and Potomac (2 games) of the Single-A Carolina League.

2008 SEASON IN REVIEW

Washington

3 DOWN, MANNY MANNY TO GO

The Washington Nationals completed their 4th season in DC, the 2nd of the Manny Acta era, with a 59-102 (.366) record...the Nationals finished 5th in the NL East, 32.5 games behind division-champion PHI.

★ The Nationals' 59-102 effort ran the franchise's all-time record to 3039-3306-4...the Nationals are now 284-363 (.439) in 4 seasons since relocating to DC in 2005.

3000TH WIN

The Nationals' 4-0 win on May 19 vs. PHI was the franchise's 3000th victory...245 of the franchise's first 3000 wins came under the guise of the Washington Nationals, with the remaining 2755 victories credited to the Montreal Expos.

SOME 2008 FACTS

The 2008 Nationals employed the services of 50 players to tie for 5th in MLB...the 50 players were 3 more than the 47 Washington utilized in 2007...25 pitchers toed the rubber for the Nationals, 11 of which started at least one game for Manny Acta and pitching coach Randy St. Claire...the 11 starting pitchers tied for 8th in MLB.

★ The Nationals' 59-102 record ranked 30th in MLB...the losing season was the franchise's 24th in 40 NL seasons.

★ The Nationals' record peaked at 3-0 on April 2...they, however, dropped 9 of the season's final 10 contests to finish a season-high 43 games below .500.

★ Washington won season series over ATL (12-6), PIT (4-3) and SEA (3-0)...the Natonals' best month came via a 14-15 August..the Nationals' 8-10 interleague mark included a split of the Battle of the Beltways Series against BAL.

59-WIN SEASON'S SILVER LINING

Washington's 59-102 record will render the first-overall selection in the 2009 First-Year Player Draft...while neither the Nationals or Expos have ever had the luxury of the first-overall selection in any First-Year Player Draft, the expansion Washington Senators selected slugging outfielder Jeff Burroughs first overall in the 1969 draft.

★ Burroughs, who played 2 seasons in DC, batted .261 with 240 homers and 882 RBI in 1689 games spanning 16 seasons with Washington (AL), TEX, ATL, SEA, OAK and TOR...he was a 2-time (1974, 1978) MLB All-Star.

YOUTH SERVED

15 rookies appeared in at least one game for the Nationals in '08...8 teams employed more than Washington's 15.

★ Washington tied ATL and PIT for 6th in MLB, as 9 of the 15 rookies were pitchers.

★ 9 players, including 7 pitchers, made big league debuts as Nationals this season: Collin Balester (MLB debut on July 1 at FLA), Roger Bernadina (June 29 vs. BAL), Marco Estrada (August 20 at PHI), Mike Hinckley (September 2 vs. PHI), Charlie Manning (May 24 vs. MIL), Shairon Martis (September 4 at ATL), Garrett Mock (June 8 vs. SFG), Luke Montz (September 4 at ATL), Steven Shell (June 22 vs. TEX).

INAUGURAL SEASON AT NATIONALS PARK

The Nationals went 34-46 in their inaugural season at Nationals Park...the non-winning home record was the Nationals' 2nd in as many seasons in DC, as they went 40-41 in their final season at RFK...Washington drew 2,321,988 to 80 openings, good for an average of 29,025.

★ The Nationals edged ATL, 3-2, in the inaugural contest at Nationals Park thanks to Ryan Zimmerman's game-ending 9th-inning solo shot to left-center field off Peter Moylan...Nationals Park's inaugural contest was televised world wide on ESPN to kick off the 19th season of Sunday Night Baseball.

AND THEN THERE WERE 3 ...

With the August 17 trade of RHP Luis Ayala to NYM, the Nationals capped the season having just 3 former Montreal Expos on their roster: RHP Chad Cordero, RHP Shawn Hill and 1B Nick Johnson...all 3 capped the 2008 campaign on the DL... Cristian Guzman, who debuted with the Nationals on Opening Day in 2005, technically could be considered an Expo, as he signed a 4-year contract with the franchise, Nov. 16, 2004...6 days later, on Nov. 22, 2004, in a ceremony at Union Station, MLB announced that DC's ballclub would be named the Washington Nationals.

★ With the departure of Ayala, the Nationals' longest-tenured player is now Cordero, who was drafted by Montreal in the 2003 First-Year Player Draft and debutED in the big leagues later that summer, August 30 at FLA.

★ Besides the 3 ex-Expos and Guzman, only 2 others even played for the Nationals' inaugural club in 2005: RHP Jason Bergmann (Aug. 28, 2005 debut) and 3B Ryan Zimmerman (Sept. 1, 2005).

BEEN THERE, DONE THAT

Ryan Zimmerman (3 straight, 2006-08) is the only current Nationals to have started at least 3 straight Opening Days for the Nationals...Zimmerman is the first franchise 3B to start 3 straight openers at the hot corner since Shane Andrews turned the trick for the Expos in 1996, '97 and '98.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Washington went a respectable 8-10 in interleague play...Washington dropped 4 of its 6 interleague series, but swept a 3-gamer at SEA (June 13-15) and salvaged a 3-3 split with BAL in the 3rd installment of the Battle of the Beltways...since the inception of interleague play in '97, the Nationals/Expos are 105-106 (.498) all-time against the AL.

★ '08 interleague play notes: the AL went a remarkable 149-102 (.594) in interleague action...Cristian Guzman's 24 interleague hits tied HOU's Lance Berkman for 2nd in the NL behind only STL's Aaron Miles (25).

★ Nationals' designated hitters combined to bat .250 (8-for-32) with one double, one homer and one RBI in '08...since interleague play's inception in '97, franchise DHs are batting .235 (96-for-408) with 15 doubles, 6 homers and 32 RBI in 107 games in AL parks...Dmitri Young's solo homer on June 19 at MIN was the franchise's lone long ball hit by a DH of 2008...the other 5 franchise DHs to homer were Dmitri Young (June 16, 2007 at TOR), Wil Cordero (June 27, 2003 at TOR), Jose Vidro (June 14, 2001 at NYY), Orlando Merced (June 5, 1999 at TOR) and Sherman Obando (June 18, 1997 at BAL).

IS THERE A DOCTOR IN THE HOUSE?

The Nationals made 30 DL moves in 2008 affecting 19 different players...the Nationals lost 1216 games to the DL in '08, or 44 less than last season, when the '07 Nationals lost 1260 games to the DL.

★ 9 players (Ronnie Belliard, Chad Cordero, Elijah Dukes, Johnny Estrada, Shawn Hill, Austin Kearns, Paul Lo Duca, Wily Mo Pena, Dmitri Young) endured multiple stints on the DL...5 players missed more than 100 games: Chad Cordero (146), Nick Johnson (120), Matt Chico (113), Ryan Wagner (108) and Dmitri Young (101).

DAVIS, ZIMMERMANN NAMED NATIONALS MINOR LEAGUE PLAYER AND PITCHER OF THE YEAR

The Nationals named OF Leonard Davis (combined .310, 28 doubles, 25 homers, 76 RBI, a .376 on-base percentage and a .567 slugging percentage at the top 3 levels in Washington's system) and RHP Jordan Zimmermann (combined 10-3 with a 2.89 ERA in 25 games/24 starts with Double-A Harrisburg and Single-A Potomac) their 2008 Minor League Player and Pitcher of the Year, respectively.

HISTORY AND RECORDS

BASEBALL RETURNS TO OUR NATION'S CAPITAL

On Wednesday, September 29, 2004, Major League Baseball selected the Washington, D.C. proposal as its choice for relocation of the Montreal Expos. Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig made the announcement. Relocation of the club was subject to certain contingencies, including a formal vote of ownership at the next owners' meeting in November and passage of legislation by the District of Columbia Council to provide for financing and construction of a ballpark on the Anacostia River waterfront in Southeast Washington. MLB also provided the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida the required notice of MLB's intent to move forward with relocating the team.

The D.C. agreement also included financing for the refurbishing of RFK Stadium, where the Washington, D.C. franchise played through the 2007 campaign.

"Washington, D.C., as our nation's capital, is one of the world's most important cities and Major League Baseball is gratified at the skill and perseverance shown by (then) Mayor Williams throughout this long process," Selig said. "There has been tremendous growth in the Washington, D.C. area over the last 33 years and we in Major League Baseball believe that baseball will be welcomed there and will be a great success."

Selig also said: "I would like to thank the representatives who worked on behalf of Northern Virginia, Norfolk, VA, Las Vegas, Portland, OR, Monterrey, Mexico and others for devoting so much time and energy in their attempts to bring a Major League Baseball team to their communities."

At the time, Washington, D.C. was the largest market in the country in terms of population (5.4 million) and television market size (eighth) without a Major League Baseball team.

Even though Washington, D.C. baseball has a long history with the American League, the team plays in the National League East Division, which in fact marks its return to its baseball roots. The first Washington, D.C. franchise joined the National League in 1886 and was part of the NL, except for a two-year hiatus in 1890-91, until the National League contracted Washington and three other franchises in 1900.

But a year later, Ban Johnson organized the American League and included Washington, D.C. as one of its charter franchises. Although the original Senators were mostly mediocre throughout their history, they fielded one of the game's greatest all-time pitchers, Walter "Big Train" Johnson and made three trips to the World Series, winning it in 1924 in a seven-game series against the New York Giants. In 1925, the Senators lost in seven games to Pittsburgh and lost in five games to the Giants in 1933.

The second incarnation of the Senators came in 1961 in the form of an expansion team. Like its predecessor, the Senators often finished in the second division and had only one winning season in their 11-year history. The Senators moved after the 1971 season and Washington, D.C. was without Major League Baseball until 2005.

THE HISTORY OF BASEBALL IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

When the first professional baseball games were played in the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., the enduring symbol of freedom in America - the Statue of Liberty - was still two years away from being dedicated. There were 38 states in the Union and what would become the State of Oklahoma had yet to be settled. More than seven decades had passed since Washington, D.C. became the capital of the United States and baseball was quickly evolving into the National Pastime.

A Washington team was admitted to the National League in 1885 and played during the League's 10th professional season in 1886. Washington played 12 years in the National League - 1886-89 and 1892-99 - but was part of a four-team contraction in 1900 as the National League went from 12 franchises to eight.

Later that same year, former Western League president Ban Johnson was organizing a second Major League to compete with the National League and announced plans to include a franchise in the nation's capital. The new League was called the American League and began play in 1901.

This Washington franchise was awarded to James Manning and Detroit businessman Fred Postal. Manning retired later that year and Tom Loftus replaced him as the club's primary executive. The Senators finished in sixth place in 1901 with a 61-72 mark and would eventually be sold to an ownership group including Thomas C. Noyes, Benjamin Minor and Harry Rapley, among others.

The first of two individual tragedies struck the organization in only its third season as the Senators lost a key figure when future Hall of Fame outfielder Ed Delahanty was tragically killed in July 1903 when he was swept over Niagara Falls. Delahanty was the reigning American League batting champion and his sudden death took its toll on the team as the Senators finished the campaign with a 43-94 mark.

Effective for the 1905 campaign, the team name was changed to Nationals. Newspaper accounts use the names Senators and Nationals interchangeably for the next five decades.

While it took 12 years before the Nationals finished a season with a winning record, the signing of 20 year-old pitcher Walter Johnson in 1907 would signify a key moment in the franchise's history. Under first-year manager, Clark Griffith, the 1912 Washington Club posted a 91-61 mark and ended up in second place, 14 games behind the eventual World Champion Boston Red Sox.

Johnson appeared in a remarkable 50 games that year - 37 as a starter - and went 33-12 with a league-leading 1.39 ERA and 303 strikeouts. The following year he was even better as he led the Nationals to their second consecutive 90-win season. "Big Train" went 36-7 with 11 shutouts and a 1.14 ERA, which still stands today as one of the lowest ERAs by a starting pitcher in a single season.

In 1912, 40 year-old team president Thomas C. Noyes fell ill to pneumonia and eventually succumbed to the disease. Noyes had been instrumental in the franchise's improvements since he took over and was replaced as team president by Minor, a prominent Washington attorney. Minor, unable to devote the necessary time to the club, subsequently sold the controlling interest to Griffith and Philadelphia businessman William Richardson in 1919.

Following a 75-78 season in 1923, Griffith made a controversial decision by appointing 27 year-old second baseman Stanley "Bucky" Harris as field manager. Harris was the fifth manager in the previous five seasons for the Nationals, but he guided one of the great reversals in baseball history as the Nationals in 1924 won more games than ever before, 92, and captured their first American League pennant.

In the 1924 World Series, the Nationals took on famed manager John McGraw and the New York Giants. The Series was one of the closest in history as four games were decided by a single run, including the deciding Game Seven. On the strength of Walter Johnson's four innings of relief pitching - on two days' rest - and the Series clinching hit by Earl McNeeley in the bottom of the 12th inning, the Nationals won their first and only World Series Championship.

United States President Calvin Coolidge, who threw out the ceremonial first pitch on three occasions during the Series, paid tribute to the hometown victors immediately following the victory:

"I have only the heartiest praise to bestow upon the individual players of both teams. Naturally, in Washington, we were pleased to see Walter Johnson finish the final game, pitching for our home team. Everybody was pleased to see him come back at the close of the last game. The three contests I witnessed maintained throughout a high degree of skill, and every evidence of high-class sportsmanship which will bring to every observer an increased respect and confidence in our national game."

The following year, Harris once again led the Nationals to a record regular season finish as they posted 96 wins and clinched a second-straight American League pennant. Their second trip to the World Series was just as close but this time they came up short in a seven-game Series to the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Senators had a 7-6 lead entering the bottom of the eighth in Game Seven, but could not hold it as the Pirates scored three runs in the inning off Johnson and held on to clinch the Series victory.

Johnson concluded his amazing 21-year playing career with Nationals in 1927 with career totals of 417-279, a 2.36 ERA, 3,508 strikeouts and a big league-record 110 shutouts. He was among the first class of inductees into the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY, in 1936.

The "Big Train" was not gone from the Washington scene long as Griffith brought him back to replace Harris as the Nationals' manager in 1929. Despite posting three straight 90-win seasons, Johnson was removed from his post after the 1932 season and replaced by Joe Cronin, the team's 26 year-old shortstop.

Cronin's first season with the Nationals produced the franchise's best regular season mark ever at 99-53 and its third American League pennant. Washington again faced the New York Giants in the Fall Classic but fell in five games to a team led by the pitching of Carl Hubbell (20 IP, 0 ER) and the hitting of Mel Ott, who clinched the Series for New York with a 10th-inning homer in Game Five.

The Nationals franchise then fell on hard times. Washington won just 66 games in '34 and the team posted only two more winning seasons the next 25 years. The team name was officially changed to Senators for the '56 campaign.

Calvin Griffith, who became team president after his father's death in 1955, was granted permission to seek relocation in Sept. 1960, and an announcement was made in Oct. 1960 that the Senators were being moved to Minneapolis, MN.

At that time, the American League announced plans to expand by two teams for the 1961 season. One team would be located in Los Angeles and the other in Washington, D.C.

EXPANSION SENATORS

An expansion draft was conducted in Boston on December 10, 1960 and the Senators selected the following players at $75,000 each:

PITCHERS	CATCHERS	INFIELDERS	OUTFIELDERS
Pete Burnside	Pete Daley	Chester Boak	Joe Hicks
Dick Donovan	Dutch Dotterer	Bob Johnson	Chuck Hinton
Rudy Hernandez	Gene Green	Billy Klaus	Marty Keough
Ed Hobaugh		Dale Long	Jim King
Johhny Klippstein		Jim Mahoney	Willie Tasby
Hector Maestri		John Schaive	Gene Woodling
Carl Mathias		Coot Veal
Bobby Shantz		Bud Zipfel
Dave Sisler
Tom Sturdivant
Hal Woodeshick

The expansion Senators fared no better than their predecessors, as they lost at least 100 games in each of their first four seasons. In 1964, the Senators acquired five players in a deal with the Los Angeles Dodgers for pitcher Claude Osteen. One of those five players was slugging outfielder and the 1960 National League Rookie of the Year, Frank Howard.

An imposing presence at 6-7, 250 lbs., Howard brought a much-needed offensive punch to the Senators lineup and the Senators win total increased in each of his first three seasons in Washington. After struggling again in 1968, new team president Robert Short brought in Hall of Fame outfielder Ted Williams as the new manager of the Senators.

Howard and his teammates responded to the "Splendid Splinter" during his rookie managerial campaign as Washington's win total improved 21 games to 86 in 1969. It was also Howard's best year in the Majors, as he batted .296 with 48 home runs, 111 RBI and 111 runs scored and finished fourth in the balloting for American League Most Valuable Player.

Unfortunately, the team was unable to build upon their success in '69. The Senators lost 92 games in '70 and 96 in '71. On Sept. 21, 1971, owners approved the transfer of the Senators to Arlington, TX, where it became the Texas Rangers.

After 71 years in the American League and nearly 100 since the debut of professional baseball in the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., hosted its "final" regular season on September 30, 1971 at Robert F. Kennedy Stadium. The Senators moved after the 1971 season and Washington, D.C. was without Major League Baseball until 2005.

WASHINGTON, D.C. BALLPARKS

Pro baseball teams were formed in our nation's capital beginning in the early 1870s and those franchises played their games in ballparks commonly known as Swampoodle Grounds, Capitol Grounds and Boundary Field.

In 1892, the Washington Senators joined the expanding National League and began playing their home games at a site that would host professional baseball games into the early 1960s. From 1892-99, the Senators played at National Park, which had a seating capacity of approximately 6,500. Although never finishing above sixth place, the team drew fairly well, including more than 200,000 fans in 1896.

When the National League contracted from 12 franchises to eight following the 1899 season, the team was disbanded. However, it would only be two seasons before a professional team occupied that site again.

During those 2 years, former Western League president Ban Johnson was working to put together a 2nd Major League to rival the NL. In 1901, the American League began play with 8 franchises, including the Washington Nationals.

This franchise would play its home games on the same site as the previous National League Washington team, but the ballpark was appropriately renamed, American League Base Ball Park and the capacity was expanded to nearly 10,000.

On March 17, 1911, tragedy struck the American League Base Ball Park. The all-wooden ballpark and four surrounding buildings were completely destroyed by a fire started by a plumber's blow lamp and a strong wind. American League Base Ball Park could not be saved as plumbers working on the park's drain pipes had shut off the water supply and by the time fire fighters arrived, the grand stand and bleachers were engulfed in flames. At the time, the loss of the ballpark was estimated at $20,000.

Thomas C. Noyes, president of the Washington franchise, gained approval from the Board of Directors to announce that work would begin immediately on a new ballpark with a steel grandstand. With the players at Spring Training and Opening Day less than a month away, crews worked tirelessly to get the ballpark ready for the home opener.

By Opening Day 1911, the grandstands were sufficiently erected for the Nationals to host the Boston Red Sox with President William Howard Taft in attendance. The work on the ballpark continued when the team was on the road and was completed on July 24, 1911 at a final cost of approximately $100,000. Seating capacity was more than 27,000, including a presidential box near the first base dugout.

In 1920, the American League Base Ball Park was renamed Griffith Stadium in recognition of the franchise's owner and president, Clark Griffith. The only major alteration to the ballpark was also made in 1920 as the double-decked stands were extended from the bases to the foul poles.

During the late-1930s and 1940s, Griffith Stadium had another part-time tenant - the famed Homestead Grays of the Negro Leagues. Originally from Pennsylvania, the Grays played half of their games at Forbes Field in Pittsburgh and half at Griffith Stadium when the Washington franchise was on the road. Some of the most revered players in Negro League history played for the Grays, including Josh Gibson, Buck Leonard, Cool Papa Bell and Sam Bankhead, as they won nine Negro League championships.

Griffith Stadium, which also hosted the Major League Baseball All-Star Game in 1937 and 1956 and three World Series in 1924, 1925 and 1933, remained the home of the Washington franchise until it was moved to Minneapolis following the 1960 season.

The expansion Washington Senators played their inaugural season at Griffith Stadium in 1961 before moving into District of Columbia Stadium for the 1962 season.

After having been the site of professional baseball in Washington, DC, since 1892, the final game at Griffith Stadium was played on September 21, 1961 as the Senators fell to the Minnesota Twins, 4-3, before a crowd of 1,498 fans. Griffith Stadium was demolished in 1965 and is now utilized by Howard University. Nearly 1,000 of the original seats from Griffith Stadium were moved to a Spring Training facility near Orlando, Fla., Tinker Field. Those seats remain there today.

A federally-owned stadium, District of Columbia Stadium was a new three-tiered, multi-purpose facility constructed near the Potomac River at a cost of approximately $24 million. The Senators signed a 10-year lease on September 29, 1961 with the D.C. Armory Board for the stadium, which had a seating capacity of 45,016.

On April 9, 1962, the Senators played their first regular season game at District of Columbia Stadium. A crowd of 42,143 - including President John F. Kennedy — saw Senators pitcher Bennie Daniels defeat the Detroit Tigers, 4-1. Interestingly enough, Daniels suffered the loss at both the final game at Ebbets Field in 1957 and the final game at Griffith Stadium in 1961.

Under the direction of the D.C. Armory Board, the stadium was officially renamed Robert F. Kennedy Memorial Stadium on January 18, 1969.

The 1969 Major League Baseball All-Star Game was the fourth hosted by the Senators and the second at RFK Stadium (also first game in 1962). Despite the American League dropping a 9-3 decision to the National League, Washington fans saw future Hall of Famer Willie McCovey hit a pair of homers and hometown favorite Frank Howard hit one as well.

In 1971, the Senators played their final season at RFK Stadium before moving to Arlington, Texas. The final regular season Major League Baseball game was played at RFK on September 30, 1971. Washington hosted the New York Yankees before a crowd of just 14,460 in a game that was never finished. The Senators were holding on to a 7-5 lead with two outs in the top of the ninth inning when fans rushed the field. The umpiring crew could not clear the field and the game was forfeited to the Yankees, 9-0.

RFK Stadium has hosted 16 exhibition games involving Major League teams since the Senators moved in 1971. A portion of the proceeds from most of the games was donated to various charities. Attendance at the 16 contests averaged more than 27,600 per game. Following is a listing of those games:

On March 14, 2006, Washington, DC Mayor Anthony Williams, the D.C. Sports & Entertainment Commission and the Washington Nationals unveiled plans for a 41,000-seat state-of-the-art baseball stadium located in Southeast DC. Seven weeks later, on May 4, ground was officially broken on the ballpark site. Washington opended Nationals Park on March 30, 2008 with a 3-2 win over ATL, televised nationally on ESPN's Sunday Night Baseball. President George W. Bush threw the ceremonial first pitch, then Ryan Zimmerman led the club to victory with a game-ending solo shot in the 9th inning.

THE TRADITION OF OPENING DAY IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

Each Major League Club has its own unique celebration to mark the opening of the Major League Baseball season, but Opening Day in the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., was always a special and sometimes historic event. Washington, D.C.'s Opening Day tradition dates to April 14, 1910. William Howard Taft, the 27th President of the United States, attended the home opener of the Washington Senators against the Philadelphia Athletics. Numerous other government officials, including Vice President James Sherman, joined President Taft at the ballpark.

An overflow crowd of 12,000 fans—the largest baseball crowd in Washington at that time—gave President Taft an standing ovation as he made his way to his seats on the first-base side. Team president Thomas C. Noyes then took the 2 managers—Washington's Jimmy McAleer and Philadelphia's legendary Connie Mack—to meet the President.

Just prior to the start of the game, umpire Billy Evans walked over to President Taft's box and presented him with a new baseball. Evans instructed President Taft that he was to throw the ball from his seat in the stands to Senators pitcher Walter Johnson, who was standing at home plate, to officially commence the start of the American League championship season. After giving the ball briefly to First Lady Helen Taft, the President adjusted his gloves and made a good throw to Johnson, who immediately gave the ball to catcher Charles Street to have it secured in a safe place.

President Taft watched the entire game, a 3-0 Washington victory in which Johnson hurled a one-hit, complete-game shutout. After the game, Johnson sent the historic ball to the White House accompanied by a note to President Taft asking for his autograph on the ball. President Taft returned the ball after penning the following on it:

"For Walter Johnson, with the hope that he may continue to be as formidable as in yesterday's game. William H. Taft."

Although President Taft was the first to throw out a ceremonial first pitch, it was not the first time a President of the United States attended a Major League Baseball game. Benjamin Harrison, the 23rd U.S. President, is believed to be the first sitting President to attend a Major League game when he witnessed a NL game between Cincinnati and Washington in June 1892. That wasn't even the first interaction with a professional baseball team as nine years earlier President Chester A. Arthur welcomed the Cleveland franchise of the National League to the White House.

Having the President throw out the ceremonial first pitch at Washington's home opener was such an enormous success—not only in the nation's capital but around the country—that it led to the American League granting Washington permission to open the American League championship season one day before the rest of the League. This action was approved on December 13, 1927, in recognition of the U.S. President throwing out the ceremonial first pitch.

Including President Taft's precedent-setting throw in 1910, 11 different Presidents have attended a home opener of the Washington Senators a total of 46 times. The Senators posted a 23-23 mark in home openers with a President present.

President Taft (2-0) and Woodrow Wilson (3-0), the 28th U.S. President, were the only two to never see the Senators lose. The only U.S. Presidents never to see Washington win a home opener were Lyndon Johnson (0-3) and Richard Nixon (0-2). Following is the breakdown of Washington's record on Opening Day, listed by President:

PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES	WASHINGTON'S RECORD ON OPENING DAY
Woodrow Wilson (D)	3-0 (1.000)
William Howard Taft (R)	2-0 (1.000)
George W. Bush (R)	2-0 (1.000)
Calvin Coolidge (R)	3-1 (.750)
Warren Harding (R)	2-1 (.667)
Dwight Eisenhower (R)	4-3 (.571)
Franklin Roosevelt (D)	4-4 (.500)
Harry Truman (D)	3-4 (.429)
John F. Kennedy (D)	1-2 (.333)
Herbert Hoover (R)	1-3 (.250)
Richard Nixon (R)	0-2 (.000)
Lyndon Johnson (D)	0-3 (.000)
TOTAL	25-23 (.521)
Democrats	11-13 (.458)
Republicans	14-10 (.583)

Prior to the Senators move to Texas in 1972, each President since Taft was in attendance for a Washington Senators home opener at least once. Several Presidents had to miss on occasion, including President Taft in 1914 because of the sinking of the Titanic and President Wilson in 1918 and 1919 because of World War I.

Since 1972, the tradition of Presidents and Opening Day has continued in other Major League cities. The only President to never throw out a ceremonial first pitch at an Opening Day game was Jimmy Carter. President George W. Bush has continued the legacy, having thrown out the ceremonial first pitch at RFK Stadium on April 14, 2005 to usher the return of baseball to the nation's capitol. He also did the honors at Miller Park in Milwaukee in April of 2001.

WASHINGTON, DC AND THE WORLD SERIES

Washington, DC has hosted three World Series, with the original Washington (AL) Nationals claiming the 1924 World Championship. Washington needed seven games to top the favored New York Giants, a club that was appearing in its 8th World Series in 14 seasons and was managed by John McGraw. The Nationals won despite Walter Johnson losing each of his first 2 starts. However, Washington won, 4-3, in 12 innings as Johnson came out of the 'pen to earn the win in Game 7. The 1924 World Series remains the 2nd of only 4 World Series to be decided in extra innings of the decisive 7th game.

The Washington (AL) Nationals would go on to play in two more Fall Classics, losing both. As defending World Champions in 1925, the Nationals won 92 games and claimed another NL Pennant, but lost to Pittsburgh in 7 games. The Pirates topped the Nationals, 9-7, in Game 7 as Walter Johnson squandered a 4-0 lead after the first inning and eventually suffered the loss. The New York Giants provided payback for the '24 Series by winning the 1933 World Series over the AL Nationals in 5 games.

THE HISTORY OF THE MONTREAL EXPOS (1969-2004)

The city of Montreal had a long association with professional baseball even before it was awarded a Major League franchise in 1968. On April 18, 1946, the Montreal Royals, a minor league affiliate of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the International League, secured their place in baseball history when Jackie Robinson made his professional debut and became the first African-American to play professional baseball in the 20th Century.

More than two decades later as the National League was seeking to expand by two franchises, former Montreal city councillor Gerry Snyder presented the city's formal bid during an owners' meeting in Mexico City, Mexico. Six months later on May 27, 1968, it was announced that Major League Baseball was expanding outside the United States for the first time as Montreal was awarded a National League franchise to begin play in 1969.

Despite some early concerns about the team's financing, Montreal met its initial deposit deadline and officially became a member of the National League on August 14, 1968. Charles Bronfman, a distillery magnate and an original investor, was named chairman with Paul Beaudry and Lorne Webster as vice-chairmen. John McHale was named president and chief executive officer, while Jim Fanning was appointed the team's first general manager.

On September 5, 1968, the Montreal franchise named Gene Mauch field manager. Mauch was returning to familiar ground as he played two seasons for the minor league Montreal Royals in 1943 and 1944. McHale also announced that the team would be known as the Expos, in recognition of Expos 67, an international exhibition that attracted 50 million visitors to the city in 1967.

Only five days later, pitcher Dave Hartman became the first player to sign a contract with the Expos. Hartman never actually played for the Expos or made it to the Major Leagues. However, an expansion draft was conducted on October 14, 1968 and the Expos selected the following 30 players:

Manny Mota, Mack Jones, John Bateman, Gary Sutherland, John Billingham, Donn Clendenon, Jesus Alou, Mike Wegener, Skip Guinn, Bill Stoneman, Maury Wills, Larry Jackson, Bob Reynolds, Dan McGinn, Jose Herrera, Jim Williams, Angel Hermoso, Jim Grant, Jerry Robertson, Don Shaw, Ty Cline, Garry Jestadt, Carl Morton, Larry Jaster, Ernest McAnally, Jim Fairey, Jose Laboy, John Boccabella, Rob Brand and John Glass.

The Expos' first home ballpark was Jarry Park, a converted minor league stadium named after former councillor Raoul Jarry in 1927. Jarry Park's initial capacity was 3,000, but was expanded to 28,450 as the ballpark met MLB standards.

Montreal made its National League debut on April 8, 1969 at Shea Stadium in New York against one of the National League's last expansion teams, the Mets. The Expos held off a furious 9th inning rally to claim an 11-10 victory. Pitcher Dan McGinn hit the first home run in franchise history, a solo shot off future Hall of Famer Tom Seaver in the 4th inning.

Jarry Park hosted its first regular season game six days later as 29,814 fans witnessed Major League Baseball in Canada for the first time. Despite facing a St. Louis Cardinals lineup that featured names such as Lou Brock, Curt Flood, Dal Maxvill and Joe Torre, the Expos treated their fans to an 8-7 win.

One of the highlights of the inaugural season came on April 17 at Connie Mack Stadium in Philadelphia. Bill Stoneman, later a general manager of the Anaheim Angels, pitched the franchise's first no-hitter in defeating the Phillies, 7-0. The Expos would go on to finish the season with a 52-110 mark.

The following season saw Montreal improve by 21 games under Mauch. 26 year-old pitcher Carl Morton went 18-11 with a 3.26 ERA en route to being named 1970 NL Rookie of the Year. In 1973, the Expos made their first pennant chase as they won 79 games and were in the race for the National League East title until the last weekend of the season.

After a few disappointing seasons, the Expos in 1977 moved into Olympic Stadium, which was the main venue for the 1976 Olympic Games. A crowd of 57,592 fans attended the first game at The Big O as the Expos fell to the Phillies, 7-2.

Montreal begun to form the nucleus of a team that would bring home its first NL East title with players such as Ellis Valentine, Andre Dawson, Warren Cromartie, Gary Carter and Steve Rogers. The Expos won 95 games in 1979 only to fall two games shy of the title and was again in the pennant race until the final game of the season 1980.

In '81, the Expos finally cleared the hurdle as they won the NL East's second half title in a season shortened by a players' strike. In a best-of-5 Divisional Series, Montreal topped first-half champion Philadelphia, three games to two, and advanced to its first NLCS.

The NLCS against Tommy Lasorda's Los Angeles Dodgers went down to the ninth inning of the fifth and deciding game. With the game tied at 1-1, Dodgers outfielder Rick Monday hit a two-out solo homer off Rogers. The Expos put two runners on in the bottom of the ninth, but could not tie the score as Los Angeles advanced to the World Series.

In 1982, Montreal hosted the first Major League Baseball All-Star Game to be held outside of the United States. The National League won its 11th consecutive Midsummer Classic on the strength of a home run by Cincinnati's Dave Concepcion. Five players represented the Expos on the NL squad: Carter, Rogers, Dawson, Tim Raines and Al Oliver.

Montreal remained competitive throughout much of the next decade, including 91 wins in 1987 by a team led by Raines, Andres Galarraga, Hubie Brooks and Tim Wallach.

Bronfman sold the franchise to team president Claude Brochu on June 14, 1991. The next season Brochu appointed long-time Montreal coach Felipe Alou as field manager. Alou guided the Expos to 87 victories and a second place finish in his first year at the helm and then improved upon that with 94 wins in 1993.

The 1994 season saw a core group of players such as Larry Walker, Marquis Grissom, Moises Alou, Pedro Martinez, Ken Hill and John Wetteland storm out to a 74-40 mark - the best in the Major Leagues - and a six-game lead in the newly-formed National League East on August 11. However, the season was never completed. A players' strike began the following day that would wipe out the remainder of the 1994 schedule.

After the changing economics of the baseball landscape forced the Expos to trade some of those core players, the '95 team finished in last place in the NL East. It was only the second time since '77 that Montreal finished in last place.

Two years later, Martinez continued to establish himself as one of the top starting pitchers in the Major Leagues. He posted a 17-8 record with a 1.90 ERA, 305 strikeouts and 13 complete games en route to being the first Expos' pitcher to win the National League Cy Young Award. That winter, Martinez was traded to the Boston Red Sox.

The 1998 season was marked by stellar individual performances on the field and uncertainty off the field. 22 year-old outfielder Vladimir Guerrero displayed his immense talent by setting six Montreal records, including the club single season home run mark. Also, 24 year-old closer Ugueth Urbina recorded 34 saves with a 1.30 ERA, and Alou became the franchise's most successful manager with his 521st victory on August 19.

Off the field, Brochu continued to struggle in an attempt to finalize funding for a new downtown ballpark and announced his willingness to sell his shares of the franchise. In 1999, Jeffrey Loria was officially approved as the Expos controlling person following a buy-back of Brochu's shares. In February 2002, Major League Baseball approved the sale of the Florida Marlins to Loria and the sale of the Expos to Major League Baseball and the 29 other Major League Clubs. A new Expos senior management team was announced: Tony Tavares (president), Omar Minaya (general manager) and Hall of Famer Frank Robinson (field manager). Baseball Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig also announced the formation of a relocation committee to seek a permanent home for the franchise.

The 2003 and 2004 seasons saw the Expos make baseball history by playing a portion of their home schedule at Hiram Bithorn Stadium in San Juan, Puerto Rico. Fans in Puerto Rico celebrated the return of Major League Baseball to the island country. The Expos drew nearly 530,000 fans and posted a 20-23 mark over their 43 games played at Hiram Bithorn Stadium during the two-season trial. On September 29, 2004, Commissioner Selig announced the formal approval of the relocation of the Expos franchise to the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., for the 2005 season.

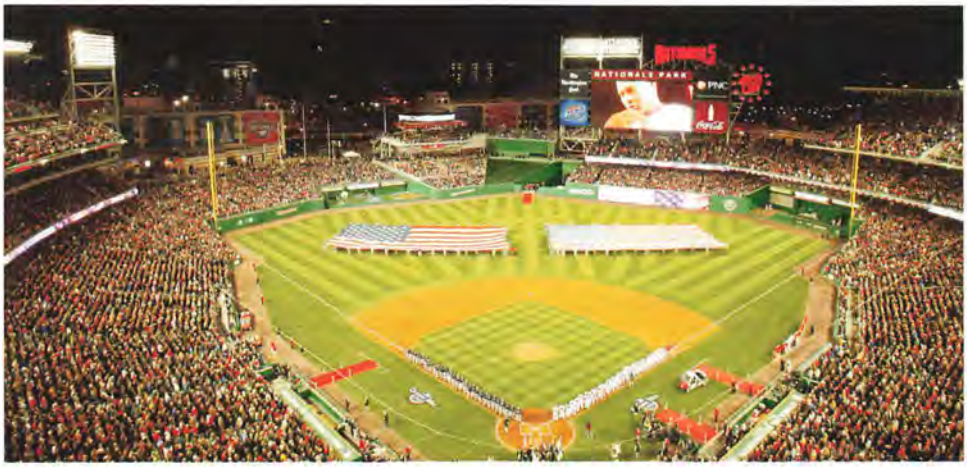
NATIONALS PARK



The new Nationals Park set a new standard for ballpark design, reflecting a unique combination of influences which include:

- The innovative arrangement of building masses, materials, systems and technologies for a forward-looking architectural expression that is unique to its location in Washington, D.C.
- Adherence to the best time-tested principles of urban design to ensure accessibility, approachability and fan-friendliness that will rival any ballpark the nation.
- Use of state of the art ballpark design concepts to ensure the best game presentation and viewing experience for all fans.
- Application of sustainable or "Green" design principles to achieve an environmentally sensitive ballpark.

INNOVATIVE ARCHITECTURE, UNIQUE TO DC

The asymmetrical massing of the ballpark responds to each aspect of its surrounding urban context:

- To the envisioned grand boulevard of South Capitol Street, the ballpark presents a monumental facade of architectural precast concrete, metal, and glass with features and articulation consistent with the traditions of D.C.'s best civic buildings. This monumental facade is enlivened by hints of the excitement within the ballpark through ground-level openings offering views into the interior of the seating bowl at street intersections, and through the glass curtain wall enclosing spectator functions that serve the upper levels .
- Anchored by this mass, the seating bowl sweeps to the south and east in a circular expression of steel and concrete that offers openness and promontory views out to the Anacostia waterfront.

The composition is unified by a simple yet dramatic gesture of a triangular point at the south end that is evocative of the geometry of L'Enfant's plan for the District and is subtly reminiscent of the majestic simplicity of our Nation's Monuments. This structure, allowing views both up the South Capitol facade and through an open plaza to the sweep of the seating bowl to the east, presents a dynamic gateway element to the approach into the city from the South.

An architectural language of modern steel structure and glass gives the building an openness and connectedness between interior and exterior that allows its activities to be visible from various outside elevations and allows the building to serve as a beacon when illuminated at night.

The structure is crowned with a unique blade-like sunscreen structure that serves as a recognizable icon from the ground and across the City's skyline. When illuminated from beneath at night, it signals the drama of the activity within.

A pair of vertical circulation ramps running the full height of the building affords fans alternating views into the ballpark and out to the surrounding city, including the Anacostia River, the Capitol Dome and other landmarks such as the Washington Monument

TIME-TESTED URBAN DESIGN

The ballpark is sited and oriented to present a dramatic welcoming image and ease of access to fans. Because of the large number of patrons that arrive from the North (whether from the Navy Yard Metro Station, from parking distributed throughout the neighborhood to the north, or on foot from offices or residential neighborhoods to the north), a large entry plaza at the terminus of Half Street at N Street funnels the pedestrian approaches to the ballpark entry gates. The fans enter the main concourse at grade which wraps around the entire ballpark affording views to the playing field at all times. The views into the ballpark down Half Street and from other approaches to the north present a breathtaking vista of the entire upper and lower decks and views to the playing field.

The ballpark is located to fit within the existing surrounding street geometry and make gestures of entry respectful of the L'Enfant plan. Gates and openings penetrate the structure where streets terminate at the facades.

The ballpark's perimeter consists of a variety of active elements, such as open views into the ballpark and retail spaces, which enliven and activate the surrounding city environment, both on game-days and non-game-days alike.

The ballpark is sited for maximum ease of access, whether by Metro, by car, or by foot. Major entrances are oriented toward the Navy Yard subway station, located just one block away, and parking is distributed both on-site and at a variety of off-site locations, allowing for a dispersal of vehicular traffic to a variety of points around the periphery of the ballpark district.

CUTTING-EDGE GAME PRESENTATION AND VIEWING EXPERIENCE

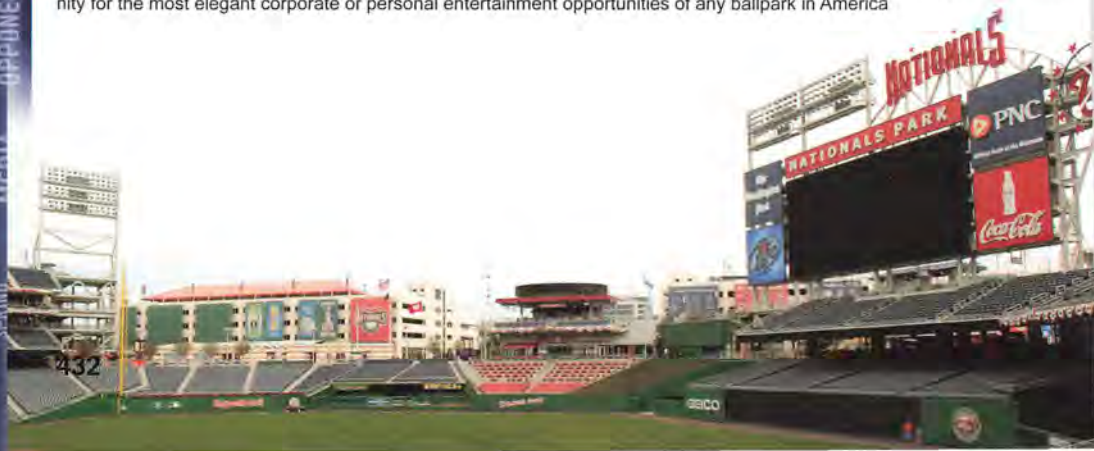
The ballpark is equipped with all of the most advanced audio-visual technology, food service venues and family-friendly entertainment and gaming alternatives to ensure a compelling and engaging game-day experience

The seating decks are arranged to create a variety of distinct seating "neighborhoods", each with its own identity and viewing experience

Entering through the main concourse, 55% of fans are able to enter the ballpark and access their seats without using vertical circulation such as ramps, stairs, escalators or elevators

The main concourse offers an almost complete 360-degree open view of the playing field, so that fans circulating the concourse or purchasing their fares at a concession stand can still view the game

Suites, the upscale Lexus Presidents Club and PNC Diamond Club, and Club level amenities provide the opportunity for the most elegant corporate or personal entertainment opportunities of any ballpark in America



GREEN DESIGN

Nationals Park is one of the most environmentally friendly stadiums in America, with particular attention to issues affecting the health of the Anacostia River such as storm water management and minimization of water pollution

Nationals Park is also the first major stadium in the U.S. accredited as a "LEED-certified", environmentally friendly building

The DC Sports and Entertainment Commission authorized the Nationals Park design team to create an environmentally friendly park. Elements of the project that contribute to LEED Certification efforts are as follows:

A sustainable site

Nationals Park, located near the Anacostia River, will be categorized as a brownfield redevelopment. It is anticipated that the ballpark will serve as an anchor for urban revitalization of the area.

- The ballpark site is a part of the Voluntary Clean Up Program which provides an opportunity to leave the 25-acre site a much better environment than when it was received
- Environmental remediation efforts are on-going
- The ballpark is easily accessible to public transportation including access to metro stations and local bus routes
- Parking for fuel efficient vehicles and car pools is provided in the on-site garages

Use of materials

Water conserving plumbing fixtures are used throughout the project offering substantial water consumption savings. Energy conserving light fixtures are installed including high efficiency field lighting. Building materials used on the project contain a minimum of 10% recycled content and other interior materials including adhesives, carpet glues and paints have low VOC contents. Many building materials were produced regionally, cutting down on transportation costs while promoting the local economy. Landscape plant materials are drought resistant, conserving water by eliminating the need for irrigation. Roof materials offer a high degree of reflectance, minimizing the amount of heat released to the environment.

- A 6,300 square foot green roof is located above a concession area beyond left field

An intricate ground and stormwater filtration system

Due to the ballpark's proximity to the Anacostia River, care was taken to treat storm and ground water runoff. The result is a unique intricate water filtration system that separates water used for cleaning the ballpark from rainwater falling on the ballpark and treats both sources of water before it is released to sanitary and stormwater systems. Special care was also given to screening organic debris, i.e. peanut shells, from the stormwater system

About LEED

LEED is a rating system that was designed to guide and distinguish high performance buildings that have less of an impact on the environment, are healthier for those who work and/or live in the building, and are more profitable than their conventional counterparts

It is a performance-oriented rating system where building projects earn points for satisfying criterion designed to address specific environmental impacts inherent in the design, construction, operations and management of a building

The rating system is organized into five environmental categories: Sustainable Sites, Water Efficiency, Energy and Atmosphere, Materials and Resources, and Indoor Environmental Quality. An additional category, Innovation and Design, awards points to LEED projects that develop new solutions, employ new technologies, educate, or realize exemplary performance in another area.

LEED for New Construction ratings are awarded according to the following scale:

- Certified: 26-32 points
- Silver: 33-38 points
- Gold: 39-51 points
- Platinum: 52-69 points

CONSTRUCTION FACTS

History of the Site

- Layers of fill and brick were found 12-14 feet below grade, indicating the probability of road and habitation at this level in the 1800s

Excavation

- A total of 340,948 cubic yards or 34,095 truckloads of soil was excavated
- A typical truck can hold 10 cubic yards or 25,000 pounds of dirt
- Approximately 4,500 cubic yards or 450 truckloads of dirt were removed each day
- There were 185,087 cubic yards of contaminated soil that was cleaned and sent to a landfill
- Some portions of the excavation required digging below the water table
- A total of approximately 2,400 piles were driven to 55 foot depth, which equals a total of 25 miles of piling

Steel

- The completed ballpark has 3500 pieces of steel in the bowl, equaling 7800 tons

Concrete

- The heaviest pre-cast unit is 55,000 pounds
- Approximately 58,000 cubic yards of cast-in-place concrete were used

Fire Protection

Nationals Park contains the following components:

- 65,000 feet of pipe
- 1 fire pump
- 25 – 30 wet sprinkler systems
- 6 – 7 dry sprinkler systems
- 2 pre – action systems
- 7,000 sprinkler heads

Mechanical Facts

The ballpark encompasses approximately:

- 9 miles of pipe
- 600,000 pounds of mechanical ducts
- 110 plumbing fixtures

Electrical Facts

Nationals Park is home to:

- Over 3 million feet of power wire
- 714,000 watts of light used, the equivalent of 11,900 60-watt bulbs
- 180,000 hours of manpower to install electrical systems
- 14,000 lights

Fun Facts

- If you stretched Nationals Park like a slinky into a boomerang curve, it would be a quarter mile long
- Inspiration for the look of the ballpark was taken from the East Wing of the National Gallery of Art, by architect I. M. Pei
- More than half of the crowd will walk straight off the street into their seats, without ever climbing elevators, ramps or stairs because the field is 24 feet below street level and the main concourse is the same height as the sidewalk
- HOK borrowed an odd right-angled jog into the right centerfield fence from the now demolished Griffith Stadium, former home of the Washington Senators

THE FIELD

- The playing field is made up of Kentucky Bluegrass Sod from Tuckahoe Turf Farm in New Jersey
- The first shipment of the 58" thick sod was delivered on November 1, 2007. After fifty-eight (58) rolls of sod and eight (8) days, installation was complete.
- 100,000 square feet of field is covered by grass
- The planting medium for the sod is 92% sand
- The field has ninety-eight (98) sprinklers for watering
- It takes two and a half hours (2 ½) to mow the field each game day
- The "Green Carpet" cost over a million dollars, including the field irrigation and drainage systems

EVENTS & TOURS

Ballpark Enterprises is a newly founded division of the Washington Nationals organization. The department manages the event planning and rental of all venues in inside Nationals Park for non-game day activities and events, such as private receptions, corporate meetings, trade shows, tours, concerts, etc.

Tours will be offered on non-game days and offer a guided, behind-the-scenes look at the ballpark

NATSTOWN

MEDIA

MID-ATLANTIC SPORTS NETWORK (MASN)

MASN, the television home of the Washington Nationals, is an independent regional sports network owned by the Washington Nationals and Baltimore Orioles and gives fans unmatched access to the action on the field and inside the game. Before and after each game, MASN carries the exclusive pregame and postgame show, Nats Xtra, hosted by Johnny Holiday and Ray Knight.

When both the Nationals and Orioles play simultaneously, MASN offers a second channel, MASN 2, to provide the live telecast of the game. All of MASN's cable and satellite distributors also carry MASN2, on a consistent channel throughout the season (visit www.masnsports.com for local listings). MASN will produce selected Nationals games for broadcast over-the-air on WDCW-TV.

The network's exclusive television territory covers all of parts of six states and the District of Columbia, from Harrisburg PA to Charlotte, NC. The network is carried by most cable and satellite providers in the mid-Atlantic Region. For more information, visit www.masnsports.com.

WASHINGTON NATIONALS RADIO (WFED-1500 AM)

On November 15, 2006, the Washington Nationals extended a contract with Bonneville International Corporation to continue as its radio partner. The continuity was appreciated throughout the region, as Bonneville has broadcast Nationals baseball since the franchise moved to DC for the 2005 season.

Nationals games in 2009 can be heard in/around DC on Federal News Radio (1500AM, 820AM, 1050AM) and on one of (how many?) radio affiliates throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia, including both Richmond and Norfolk. (How many?) exhibition games, as well as the entire 162-game regular-season schedule will be broadcast by Charlie Slowes and Dave Jageler, who return for a fourth consecutive season in 2009. Slowes has been with the Nationals since the club's inaugural campaign, while Jageler enters his fourth year.

Bonneville International, which owns Federal News Radio, is a media company with radio, television, satellite, and advertising properties in DC, Chicago, Phoenix, San Francisco, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Seattle and Salt Lake City.

CHARLIE SLOWES

2009 marks the 12th consecutive season and 16th overall calling Major League Baseball for Slowes, the original play-by-play voice of the Nationals. Slowes joined the Nationals on February 24, 2005, and it did not take long for his trademark "Bang Zoom go the Fireworks," followed by, "A Curly 'W' is in the Books" tag lines after Nationals victories to become part of Beltway lexicon. His post with the Nationals was a return to the Washington, DC area for Charlie, who became the Radio Voice of the Washington Bullets in 1986 at just 25 years of age. He went on to broadcast Bullets game for 11 seasons (1986-87-1996-97)He went on to broadcast Bullets game for 11 seasons (1986-87-1996-97), the longest run in franchise history until equaled by current voice Dave Johnson. Included in that time were two years of TV-radio simulcasts. Slowes made the switch to MLB full-time, becoming an original voice of the expansion Tampa Bay Devil Rays in 1998, calling Rays games for their first seven seasons. Slowes is among the many, including Hall-of-Famer Vin Scully, to enter sports broadcasting after graduating from Fordham University in New York and having honed his craft on Fordham's 50,000-FM blowtorch, WFUV 90.7 FM. Shortly after graduation, Charlie's first career job was with KMOX Radio in St. Louis, where for three years (1984-86), he was exposed to the likes of broadcasting greats Bob Costas and the late Jack Buck. Slowes worked in a variety of on-air functions for broadcasts of St. Louis Cardinals Baseball, St. Louis Cardinals Football, St. Louis Blues Hockey and St. Louis University Basketball play-by-play as well as sportscasts and sports talk shows. Charlie broadcast Tidewater Tides Triple-A baseball for parts of four seasons from 1986-92. He has also broadcast at the national network level with NBC-TV and CBS Radio for their MLB Game of the Week. Slowes has also called baseball for the Baltimore Orioles (1989-1990) and the New York Mets (1988, 1991). He's also dabbled in bowling and boxing for ESPN and MISL soccer (play-by-play with New York Arrows in 1983) in two-plus decades as a play-by-play broadcaster. During the 2007-2008 off-season Charlie returned courtside for some college basketball play-by-play, filling in on the University of South Florida-ISP Sports Network. Slowes and his wife, Christina, celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary in June, 2008. The couple has two sons, Jimmy (4/6/94) and Alex (10/11/94), and split time between homes in Alexandria, VA and Palm Harbor, FL.

DAVE JAGELER

Jageler enters his fourth season with the Nationals after spending the 2005 campaign as the radio and TV voice of the Pawtucket Red Sox of the Triple-A International League. Jageler joined Gary Cohen (Mets), Don Orsillo (Red Sox), Dave Flemming (Giants) and Andy Freed (Devil Rays) as Pawtucket products who have graduated to the major leagues in recent years. Prior to joining Pawtucket, Jageler worked in Boston co-hosting an afternoon talk show as well as serving in various capacities with the Boston Celtics radio network, including fill in play-by-play. Jageler spent six years in Charlotte as the voice of UNC-Charlotte basketball and co-hosting a morning drive talk show. While in Charlotte, he built his baseball resume with the Triple-A Charlotte Knights in the 1995, 1996 and 2001 seasons doing play-by-play. Jageler's voice may sound familiar to some in the DC-area, as he served as a host on the Virginia Tech Sports Network during the 1993-94 basketball season. He has also served as the studio host for Westwood One's NHL Game of the Week, the Florida State and Texas Longhorns football networks and has done fill-in play-by-play for both the Seminoles and Longhorns. The Windsor, CT native is a graduate of Syracuse University's S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications, where he began his play-by-play career broadcasting Syracuse football and basketball games on WAER and baseball for the Triple-A Syracuse Chiefs on Time Warner Cable and Empire Sports Network. Dave and his wife, Jennifer, have two children, Jared (9) and Sarah (5).

NOTES

Take me out to the ball game.

Take me out to the crowd.

Buy me some peanuts and

Cracker Jack, and one of those cool jackets, and a program, and a foam finger (I love those things), and some nachos and a hot dog, no—two hot dogs, and a large soda to wash it down.

At the old ball game.

Demonstrate true fandom with the Nationals Check Card, only from PNC. It comes with automatic respect from other fans. And with the availability of free ATM transactions worldwide on select accounts, now you can follow the Nationals anywhere.
